GREAT SQUEEZE WORKING IS BELIEVED BY ALLIES

TORRENTIAL RAINS FRENCH WILL GET INTERFERE WITH THROUGH TO SOMME BRISH ADVANCE WITHOUT MUCH LOSS

GERMANS BRING UP REINFORCEMENTS AND FIGHT FOR EVERY YARD OF GROUND—CENTRAL POWERS LOSING INITIATIVE. RUSSIANS OPEN NEW OFFENSIVE AGAINST PRINCE LEOPOLD'S ARMY—ITALIANS STILL MAKING PROGRESS IN CAMPAIGN AGAINST AUSTRIANS.

SO DECLARES DIRECTOR OF MILITARY OPERATIONS FOR BRITISH, WHO DECLARES KITCHENER'S ARMY IS DOING FULL SHARE IN PRESENT OPERATIONS—EXPLAINS APPARENT IDLENESS DURING ATTACKS ON VERDUN.

London, July 4.—The Two British official dispatches issued today record little change in the situation on the British front. They show that the Germans have brought up strong reinforcements from other parts of their line and are stubbornly contesting every yard of the British advance.

Tormentals rains today hampered the offensive operations and the British action was confined mostly to consolidating the ground already won.

The French have captured two more villages and are on good roads to Peronne. There is yet no decrease in the violence of the enemy's defensive works in the Verdun attacks in the Verdun region.

Dispatches from German war correspondents indicate the realization that the central powers are losing their initiative which their favorable position on the interior lines had enabled them to hold throughout the long course of the war. Moreover, commenting on the enormous resources in munitions and war material the entente allies have been able to pile up through the weary months of preparation, they equally recognize that a profound change has occurred in the relations of the belligerents.

RUSSIANS START NEW OFFENSIVE. Simultaneously with the opening of the Anglo-French offensive the Russian army again are attacking on the whole length of their formation. An entirely new offensive has been opened against Prince Leopold's Slavonian army in the region of Baranovich, where the Russians have pierced the German lines at two places, while the Italians are maintaining strong pressure along the entire front.

The British newspapers consider that these events prove that the moment of the "great squeeze" has at last arrived and that the last two years have been almost every British correspondent on the western front wars against being over sanguine and daily reiterates that progress necessarily must be slow and methodical.

Up to the present the Anglo-French captures in this battle of the Somme total more than 14,000 prisoners, twelve heavy guns and twenty-eight field guns. This booty represents for the man in the street a very satisfactory result of a little over three days' fighting.

The battle rages on such an extended

George W. Riddle Withdraws From U. S. Senatorial Race

Dallas, July 4.—George W. Riddle has withdrawn from the senatorial race and issues the following statement:

To the Democrats of Texas: I have decided to retire from the race for the United States senate. I entered this contest with an honorable ambition to be of some service to my state. I have made some sixty or seventy speeches in various sections of the state, and in many places met with splendid encouragement, but wherever I have gone, by reason of the people dividing on the liquor question, there has been a sentiment in order to get a strongest man in the second primary. I do not know that this sentiment has crystallized upon any particular candidate, but at the same time there are evidence that, while I would get a large vote, yet it would be a minority vote as compared to the strength of the party of the other, and that my remaining in the race might compromise the success of some of the measures in which I am interested.

I do not believe the nation is worth anything to anybody, and I would like to see it put out of the state, and I am afraid that my remaining in the race would put that issue in jeopardy. In withdrawing, I release my many friends from any and all promises and leave them free to give their support to whatever candidate they may select, and I want to assure each and every one that I feel grateful for their support and appreciate beyond measure their confidence in this contest.

Personally, I shall give my support to Dr. S. P. Brooks of Waco, whom I believe to be worthy and capable, but to suggest or dictate to any of my friends as to how they shall vote, that is a matter that each one must decide for himself.

I go out of this race without any unkind feeling toward anyone. This country of ours is one that abounds in freedom of thought and speech, and we must always be willing to accord to every citizen the same right that we would exercise ourselves, in that of espousing the cause of men or measures as our inclinations may suggest or direct.

In the many addresses I have made it has been my purpose to try to promote a spirit of good will and co-operation among all the people. This is not a time to stir up strife or to array one class against another. There is but one good purpose in life and that is to undertake to make a living along fair and honorable lines and to treat other people just like you would like to be treated yourself. These are problems in the economy of life that are so simple and yet so just that we ought not to try to get away from them.

I had hoped to carry these principles into the public service. I shall continue to battle for them in private life.

TORRENTIAL RAINS INTERFERE WITH BRITISH ADVANCE

GERMANS BRING UP REINFORCEMENTS AND FIGHT FOR EVERY YARD OF GROUND—CENTRAL POWERS LOSING INITIATIVE. RUSSIANS OPEN NEW OFFENSIVE AGAINST PRINCE LEOPOLD'S ARMY—ITALIANS STILL MAKING PROGRESS IN CAMPAIGN AGAINST AUSTRIANS.

SO DECLARES DIRECTOR OF MILITARY OPERATIONS FOR BRITISH, WHO DECLARES KITCHENER'S ARMY IS DOING FULL SHARE IN PRESENT OPERATIONS—EXPLAINS APPARENT IDLENESS DURING ATTACKS ON VERDUN.

London, July 4.—The Two British official dispatches issued today record little change in the situation on the British front. They show that the Germans have brought up strong reinforcements from other parts of their line and are stubbornly contesting every yard of the British advance.

Torrential rains today hampered the offensive operations and the British action was confined mostly to consolidating the ground already won.

The French have captured two more villages and are on good roads to Peronne. There is yet no decrease in the violence of the German attacks in the Verdun region.

Dispatches from German war correspondents indicate the realization that the central powers are losing their initiative which their favorable position on the interior lines had enabled them to hold throughout the long course of the war. Moreover in commenting on the enormous resources in munitions and war material the central powers have been able to pile up through the wearying months of preparation, they equally recognize that a profound change has occurred in the relations of the belligerents.

RUSSIANS START NEW OFFENSIVE.

Simultaneously with the opening of the Anglo-French offensive the Russian army again are attacking on the whole length of their formation. An entirely new offensive has been opened against Prince Leopold's Bavarian forces in the region of Baranovich, where the Russians have pierced the German lines at two places, while the Italians are maintaining strong pressure along the entire front.

The British newspapers consider that these events prove that the moment of the "great squeeze" has at last arrived and not since the war began have hopes run so high. Nevertheless almost every British correspondent on the western front warns against being over sanguine and daily reiterates that progress necessarily must be slow and methodical.

London, July 4.—"Only German soldiers in open field formations now stand between the French and the river Somme," said Major General F. B. Maurice today, referring to the part of the river which flows northward to the east of the sector along which the French have made their greatest gains. "The last of the enemy's defensive works in that sector have been captured by our allies."

In giving the Associated Press a summary of the results attained by the central allied offensive on the western front, Major General Maurice, who is director of military operations of the imperial general staff, continued:

Much undesired obliquity has been heaped upon the British army, English, French and American, because we apparently did nothing to assist the French in the fighting on the Verdun front. But all this time we were doing the part requested by General Joffre.

According to the plan, we conserved our troops, accumulated supplies and waited for the situation to develop in which we were to play our part with the Russians and Italians as well as the French. For certain tactical and moral reasons, which need not be dilated upon, it was necessary that the French should not lose the east bank of the Meuse and General Joffre informed us that he could hold the positions which command that of the river until the end of June, so we knew we were going to strike at the beginning of July.

ALLIES PLAN CAREFULLY.

"The blow planned by the allied general staffs included offensives by the Russians and Italians. We are not disappointed with our own advance, which we expected to be slow, and we are enormously pleased with the French, who with comparatively light losses, are sweeping forward to the Somme."

"It is quite evident the Germans were surprised by the strength of the French offensive. They evidently believed our allies would be kept too busy before Verdun to participate seriously in the western offensive which they knew was coming. Consequently they made extensive preparations before our front, piling up reinforcements there, while comparatively neglecting the southern sector dominated by the French. The Germans are now being driven up great forces, much of which consisted of independent units called Mousqueton battalions, armed only with light machine guns."

President Wilson Dedicates Labor Temple at Washington

Washington, July 4.—President Wilson today dedicated "to common counsel and a common understanding" a labor temple erected here as the new home of the American Federation of Labor. He told a large audience gathered at the dedicatory exercises that the greatest barrier to industrial peace had been the difficulty of insuring candid and dispassionate conference and that "getting our fighting blood up" was "the long way and not the short way of securing rights."

The president's address was interrupted twice by a woman suffrage speaker who heckled him regarding his opposition to a national suffrage amendment. She was silenced by secret service men and finally taken away by the police. The congressional union announced tonight that the effort was but the first step in a new campaign to impress democratic leaders with the advisability of passing the amendment at this session of congress.

Mr. Wilson's plea for calm counsel brought repeated applause from the crowd, which apparently interpreted it as having a direct bearing on the Mexican crisis. The president, however, did not refer to Mexico or any other foreign country by name.

"The way we generally strive for rights," he said, "is by getting our fighting blood up and I venture to say that it is the long way and not the short. If you come at me with your fists doubled, I think I can promise you that mine will double as fast as yours, but if you come at me and say, 'Let us sit down and take counsel together and if we differ with one another, understand why it is we differ, just what points are at issue, we presently will find that we are not so far apart after all.'"

The president scarcely had begun to speak when the first interruption came. The questioner, Miss Mabel Vernon, was standing only a few feet from him when she shouted:

"If you truly desire to serve all classes, why do you block the national suffrage amendment now before congress? Four million women in this country!"

The white house secret service quickly silenced her. She tried unsuccessfully to induce them to eject her from the crowd. When she again sought to interrupt the speaker, a few minutes later, however, city police led her away from her speaker's stand. She was not arrested. The president apparently was undisturbed by the incident.

Nothing the president said aroused such enthusiasm as his praise of that section of the Clayton act declaring that labor is not a commodity.

"I am sorry," he said, "that there were any judges in the United States who had to be told that it is so obvious that it seems to me that the section of the Clayton act were a return to the primer of human liberty; but if judges have to have a primer opened before them, I am willing to open it."

President Gompers of the Federation, who introduced the president, started a prolonged demonstration by making an appeal for support of the president, "in peace or war."

BRITISH RESERVES VISITED WHERE ONCE WERE GERMAN LINES

Press Camp in France, July 3.—(Via London, July 4).—Facts and impressions from the press correspondents who are today in the press camp and night trying to grasp the details of the gigantic struggle which is in progress in northern France. At every step material and men are being employed in this determined offensive.

Everywhere the eye can reach are the British and French lines of positions. The British and French lines are being employed in this determined offensive. The British and French lines are being employed in this determined offensive.

The change from the scenes presented by the monotonous trench warfare to those of an advancing army is amazing. From the ruins of the German positions between Mont Auban and Mametz the correspondent looked over the whole field toward the second great line of the German battle line. The barbed wire entanglements were plainly discernible; from the field won by the British with its battle litter and silent shell holes the spectator looked forward to where the battle still raged and west beyond Fricourt to where the British infantry were advancing to take another position.

Men who were spoken of talked of "good luck" or "bad luck" which meant that they had made the rush across the zone between the old British and German lines against little opposition or that some machine guns had been still in the shell fire.

As an instance of the amazing rapidity with which the British troops advance, a British colonel told his first real sleep since the fight began in a German dugout where his predecessors candle burned on the table.

Bryan Makes Talk
Against Militarism
to Teachers

New York, July 4.—Hope that the "teachers in our public schools" will voice the clamor for militarism, not voiced tonight by William Jennings Bryan in an address before the National Education association in session here.

"It is not the voice of the people," he said, "but an echo from the battlefields of Europe. The temporary excitement of a world war should not be allowed to disturb our permanent educational institution; it will abide with us when the battle flags are furled."

"The adequate reserves asked by one party," he continued, "and the ample reserves asked by the other party can be adequately and amply supplied without robbing the cradle or recruiting in the graded schools."

RUSSIAN CAVALRY ALREADY IN HUNGARY

London, July 5.—1:59 a. m.—Russian cavalry patrols have crossed the Carpathians and entered Hungary, according to a wireless dispatch received here from Bucharest.

The dispatch says the patrols advanced from Kimpoling and entered Hungarian territory on Tuesday. They cut telegraph lines and destroyed buildings in which food and munitions were stored. It is added that the Hungarians in the invaders are again on the advance and caused a deep impression in Budapest.

Thiaumont Changes Hands Once More

Paris, July 4.—The Thiaumont work, around which some of the bloodiest fighting of the war has taken place, has been captured by the Germans for the fourth time, according to the official statement issued by the French war office tonight.

The French have advanced south and east of Asselviere, where they have captured a wood and the villages of Bar-leux and Belsay-en-Santerre. They also have taken the greater part of the village of Estrees, where 500 prisoners fell into their hands.

Wilson's See Fireworks.

Washington, July 4.—President and Mrs. Wilson were among the thousands who watched a municipal fireworks display and listened to a concert by the United States marine band tonight in Washington Monument park.

NO WAR DESIRED WITH UNITED STATES BY MEXICO SAYS CARRANZA IN REPLY WHICH IS TO BE DELIVERED TODAY

HEAVY MOVEMENT OF GUARDSMEN TO BORDER CONTINUES

San Antonio, July 4.—While General Funston and his staff were working out the details of placing all the troops, both regular and guardsmen, on a tactical basis today, a close scrutiny of movements across the international line was kept by border commanders. It was feared that the celebration of Independence Day in border towns might give rise to some incident capable of growing into a clash with Mexicans, but reports from all quarters indicated comparative quiet.

Some excitement was caused here during the Fourth of July parade when Jesus Almanso, a Mexican, was overpowered by the crowd. Almanso made an insulting gesture when that section of the parade headed by the acting mayor passed. Some one cried that a "Mexican had insulted the flag" and only the arrival of police saved Almanso from injury. He was taken to police headquarters and later released.

The big movement of guardsmen toward the border continued unabated today. One of Maine's regiments of infantry passed through here to its station in the Laredo district, and more Missouri troops reached Laredo, passing through here. The heavy New York movement to the Brownsville district was continued, the first squad of cavalry and the second battalion of infantry from that state going through here today. When all the troops are stationed New York will have a representation on the border of about 22,000. A regiment of Maryland infantry moved through here late tonight and should reach its station at Eagle Pass tomorrow.

Little was known here of the troops that are being sent to El Paso and stations west of there, but it is known that before the war department adopted General Funston's suggestion to divide the southern department into three commands he and his staff worked out a station list with the idea of providing adequate forces so far as possible for all districts from which men might be drawn for general operation in Mexico. When the two general officers designated under the new plan of providing a field army for peaceful settlement of the work in the west they will find already there all the men now available and so disposed that they can be moved easily to any position the new commanding officers may desire.

Four of the forty-five new truck companies recently ordered—thirty-three auto trucks to a company—are due to reach Fort Sam Houston this week. Other companies will be sent to border points as fast as factories can supply the trucks.

From six to twenty-four car loads of horses are being received daily at the prominent station here. It is estimated that 10,000 horses will be received here this week.

Among the recruits that appeared today for service were twenty-five of those listed for courtmartial because they failed to respond when the Texas militia was called. Major Blanton Winslow, judge advocate, who was sent here from Leavenworth to try the "slackers," now is finding it difficult to place any of the delinquents on trial. Almost all at one time or another have re-entered the service.

Memorial Service for Victims of
Carrizal Planned

El Paso, July 4.—Civil and military authorities tonight began making arrangements for a memorial service and a military funeral for the American soldiers who fell at Carrizal.

Andres Garcia, Mexican consul, said the bodies probably would reach here late in the week.

By way of Columbus came a report that the Seventh and Eleventh cavalry regiments were leaving General Pershing's army for the border and a Mexican from Villa. However, these were mere variations of old stories. They were impossible of confirmation.

The reported exodus of the Seventh and eleventh regiments was largely discounted by statements from Washington that General Pershing's orders had not been changed.

The booming of a forty-five gun salute to the flag today caused momentary alarm in Juarez.

Official Text of Note Not Made Public But Arrived Gives Out Verbal Synopsis Indicating Communication Is of Unexpectedly Conciliatory Character—Much Depends on the Tone Assumed.

WILSON READY TO MEET ADVANCES HALF WAY

Direct Negotiations Between Mexico City and Washington Suggested Instead of Proposed Latin-American Mediation Plan—War Department Continues Mobilization Program—No Immediate Withdrawal Will Be Considered—Orders to Trevino Must Be Explained.

Washington, July 4.—General Carranza's formal reply to the two sharp notes he has received from the Washington government regarding the situation on the border and in northern Mexico was at the Mexican embassy here tonight awaiting presentation tomorrow to Secretary Lansing by Eliseo Arredondo, ambassador designate. It arrived by telegraph early in the Fourth and only the fact that all government departments prevented its immediate delivery.

A verbal synopsis of the communication made public by the embassy indicates that it is of an unexpectedly conciliatory character.

Lacking the text of the note it was impossible tonight to say whether it would prove satisfactory to President Wilson. Since the release of the American troops taken at Carrizal the question at issue between the Washington government and General Carranza has been narrowed to Mr. Wilson's desire for a formal declaration of intention toward the American expeditionary forces in Mexico. The synopsis of the new note indicates a specific statement still is lacking.

Only a close study of the reply will disclose whether it will be necessary to press General Carranza to affirm or deny the hostile construction placed upon his orders that American troops be attacked if they moved in any direction except toward the border.

Without doubt the effect of the embassy statement as to the note's character has been to relax still further the diplomatic tension between the two governments.

WILSON READY TO MEET ADVANCES.

One fact stood out clearly with the officials familiar with President Wilson's desires and purposes. If General Carranza desires to find a way for peaceful settlement of the difference between the two governments he will be met more than half way. The diplomatic discussion foreshadowed at that event, however, would have to be taken to the steps of the Washington government to express its views. General Carranza believes, however, that more could be accomplished by direct negotiations between Washington and Mexico City officials than through mediation proceedings.

The war department continued without abatement today its efforts to complete mobilization of the national guard army at the border.

The department had no announcement to make as to General Pershing's decision on the offer made to him yesterday which would give him command of the new military department of New Mexico. Pending his decision General Funston probably will continue to administer affairs along the border from the Gulf coast to Douglas, Arizona, where General Bell, commanding the western department, will assume jurisdiction.

Disposition of the national guard organizations will continue along the fully developed plan worked out by General Funston and which has the hearty approval of the army general staff. Any rearrangement which may be necessary later will be made after conference between the three border commanders hereafter.

NO FOREIGN MEDIATION WANTED.

The note also is said to point out that the principle of mediation as suggested by various Latin-American powers has been accepted by the de facto government and to invite the Washington administration to express its views. General Carranza believes, however, that more could be accomplished by direct negotiations between Washington and Mexico City officials than through mediation proceedings.

WILL CARRY WEIGHT.

In view of this situation, officials believe the language and general tone of the present Carranza note will have great weight with President Wilson in deciding upon a course. It is expected General Carranza will be required to make redress in some form for the discourteous tone of his previous communications if entirely amicable relations are to be resumed.

According to the embassy synopsis of the communication which officials believe was prepared personally by General Carranza it renews assurances that the de facto government will restore order in Northern Mexico and establish an adequate guard against border raiders. It is said to suggest that the presence of American troops in Mexico serves only to increase unsettled conditions in the border states and not to make any new demand for their withdrawal.

It is not known whether any mention is made of previous orders to General Trevino that American troops be attacked if they moved in any direction except toward the border. Apparently the communication avoids the definite diplomatic statement in that regard sought by Secretary Lansing and substitutes an argument as to the general situation.

General Carranza believes, however, that more could be accomplished by direct negotiations between Washington and Mexico City officials than through mediation proceedings.

The war department continued without abatement today its efforts to complete mobilization of the national guard army at the border.

The department had no announcement to make as to General Pershing's decision on the offer made to him yesterday which would give him command of the new military department of New Mexico. Pending his decision General Funston probably will continue to administer affairs along the border from the Gulf coast to Douglas, Arizona, where General Bell, commanding the western department, will assume jurisdiction.

Disposition of the national guard organizations will continue along the fully developed plan worked out by General Funston and which has the hearty approval of the army general staff. Any rearrangement which may be necessary later will be made after conference between the three border commanders hereafter.

NO FOREIGN MEDIATION WANTED.

The note also is said to point out that the principle of mediation as suggested by various Latin-American powers has been accepted by the de facto government and to invite the Washington administration to express its views. General Carranza believes, however, that more could be accomplished by direct negotiations between Washington and Mexico City officials than through mediation proceedings.

George W. Riddle Withdraws From U. S. Senatorial Race

Dallas, July 4.—George W. Riddle has withdrawn from the senatorial race and issues the following statement:

To the Democrats of Texas:
I have decided to retire from the race for the United States senate. I entered this contest with an honorable ambition to be of some service to my state. I have made some sixty or seventy speeches in various sections of our state, within the last two months, and in many places met with splendid encouragement, but wherever I have gone, by reason of the people I have been a sentiment to support the strongest man in order to get a pro candidate in the second primum has not known that this issue in jeopardy, but at this time there are evidences to my mind that led me to believe that, while I would get a large vote, yet it would be the strength of some of the other candidates, and that my remaining in the race might compute the success of some of the measures in which I am interested.

I do not believe the saloon is worth anything to anybody, and I would like to see it put out of the state, and I am afraid that my remaining in the race would put that issue in jeopardy.

In withdrawing, I release my many friends from any and all promises and leave them free to give their support to whatever candidate they may select, and I want to assure each and every one that I feel grateful for their support and appreciate beyond measure their confidence in this contest. Personally, I shall give my support to Dr. S. P. Brooks of Waco, whom I believe to be worthy and capable, but in so declaring myself, I do not wish to suggest or dictate to any of you as to how they shall vote. That is a matter that each one must decide for himself.

I go out of this race without any unkind feeling toward anyone. This country of ours is one that abounds in freedom of thought and speech, and we must always be willing to accord to every citizen the same right that we would exercise ourselves. We are expounding the cause of men or measures as our inclinations may suggest or direct.

In the many addresses I have made it has been my purpose to try to promote a spirit of good will and co-operation among all the people. This is no time to stir up strife or to array one class against another. There is but one good purpose in life and that is to undertake to make a living along fair and honorable lines and to treat other people just like you would like to be treated yourself. These are problems in the economy of life that are so simple and yet so just that we ought not to try to get away from them.

I had hoped to carry these principles into the public service. I shall continue to battle for them in private life.

Truly yours,
GEORGE W. RIDDLE.

Bull Moose May Have Ticket in Field Yet Says Parker

New Orleans, July 4.—In a telegram sent today to third district congressional committee of the progressive party in Louisiana, John M. Parker, vice presidential nominee of that party, urged the progressives to continue to fight against their convictions, "unfettered by desertion and fearfulness of any opposition."

Asked if this telegram indicated he would not support either the republican or democratic nominees for president, but would insist on the progressive keeping a ticket in the field, Mr. Parker replied:

"I presume it does. However, I shall have a definite statement on the matter within a few days."

"FIELD-PIPE" FOR TRENCHES.

Can Be Smoked Without Fear of Attracting Enemy's Fire.

(Popular Mechanics.)
The "field pipe" is a German invention which smokers at the front enemy's fire with telltale clouds of smoke or the glow of burning tobacco. The glow in this pipe is entirely concealed, and the smoke is turned into a thin vapor. The article has a rubber bit from which an apple-wood bowl is suspended by a flexible stem. The bowl resembles a chisel handle; its lower end unscrews and is perforated with several holes. After this cap has been removed the position of the pipe should be reversed for filling; a slide, also perforated, is moved to one side and the tobacco deposited in the bowl. The slide is then replaced, the bowl allowed to drop down to its normal position, and then it is ready to be lighted, after which the cap is replaced. Between the bowl and the stem is a cup to collect the nicotine and moisture which otherwise would extinguish the fire. The pipe can be smoked with safety in powder magazines.

TEDDY WANTS WAR INSTEAD OF PRESENT PEACE WITH MEXICO

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 4.—Theodore Roosevelt, addressing his fellow villagers at a Fourth of July celebration here today for the first time in several years, asserted that he preferred war to the peace that the United States is at present having with Mexico. He added that in the event of an actual declaration of war and a call for volunteers he would give his homelike the first opportunity to point with him in proffering their services to the government.

"The French will get through to the river. "On the whole we are well satisfied with our advance. We will continue our artillery preparation, as we have no intention of butting our head against a stone wall. The human factor must be considered and this factor presents some unexpected problems on the German side, since after all the enemy has something to say against the progress of any offensive. However, it must be clear now even to laymen that the blame heaped on us for not going to the aid of the French before Verdun was quite undeserved, as we are doing exactly what General Joffre requested.

SUMMARY OF WAR

The French troops, co-operating with the British in the Somme river region have straightened their line somewhat by the capture of Barleux, Belloy-en-Santerre and Estrees, where 500 prisoners were taken, the fighting still is going on furiously.

On the British end of the line only slight progress has been made at some points. Unofficial dispatches say that the entire British front is making a steady advance in the Somme sector without apparently heavy casualties and now face an easier task, according to expert opinion, to reach their objective, the river itself, the Verdun front the Germans are making a steady advance in the Somme sector without apparently heavy casualties.

many days past thousands of men have fallen for this is a position which is essential to the Germans for carrying their advance nearer to Verdun itself and to the French to keep their resistance intact.

Russians and Italians are lending all their strength to the combined blow against the central powers and Bucharest reports a significant movement of Russian patrols who are said to have advanced from Kimpolung in Bukovina and entered Hungarian territory. All along the Russian front engagements of the severest character are in progress and the Russians driving north from Kolomea have advanced more than twenty miles and are threatening to outflank Gen. Von Bothmer's army and the Austro-German forces in the Tarnopol region. Should this Russian movement prove successful Von Bothmer may have to fall back on Lemberg.

The Russians report the capture of many guns and more than 3,000 prisoners on the various sectors of the eastern front.

Through the official communications with respect to the battles along the Austro-Italian front give only a meager idea of the situation as a whole that issued by the Italian war office indicates that the artillery and infantry fighting is of a continuous and desperate nature. The Austrian war office is silent regarding the operations against the Italians.

front that the correspondent finds difficulty in sifting the main currents of the operations. The Associated Press correspondent in a program of the most significant features when he notes "the amazing change from trench warfare to that of an army in progress."

The same striking features comes out in an interesting review of the operations which the Associated Press has obtained in an interview with Major General F. B. Baumer, who predicts an immediate development south of the Somme where he says the fighting now is in open field formation.

SITUATION SATISFIES ENGLAND.

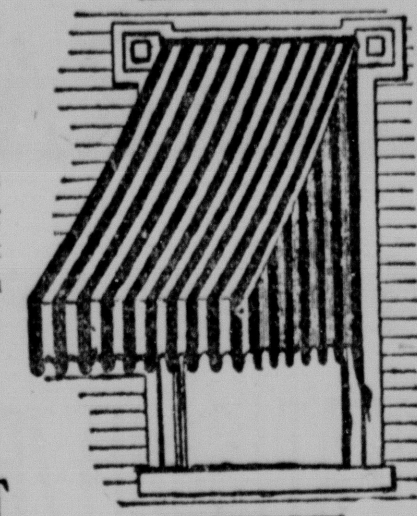

All official dispatches speak confidently of the satisfactory situation on the British front, a notable incident being the surrender of a complete Prussian infantry battalion with officers to the British near Pricourt. German prisoners are being sent to England, 1500 being landed at Southampton today.

In the face of the exciting events on the western front, the Russian operations to some extent have been lost sight of, but they are of increasing interest. Reports in the Austrian official communications of the fighting southeast of Timach indicate that General von Bothmer's forces must have fallen back from the Tarnopol front in an effort to meet the threat to his communications. It is thought that von Bothmer may be forced to retire to Lemberg.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of plain powdered norexin from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and saturated oil from the body that form in the pores of the skin—pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get them out after they become hard. The powdered norexin and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anybody troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

Around this work which has been the center of desperate attacks and counter attacks for many days past thousands of men have fallen for this is a position which is essential to the Germans for carrying their advance nearer to Verdun itself and to the French to keep their resistance intact.

Russians and Italians are lending all their strength to the combined blow against the central powers and Bucharest reports a significant movement of Russian patrols who are said to have advanced from Kimpoling in Bukovina and entered Hungarian territory. All along the Russian front engagements of the severest character are in progress and the Russians driving north from Kolomen have advanced more than twenty miles and are threatening to flank Gen. Von Bothmer's army and the Austro-German forces in the Tarnopol region. Should this Russian movement prove successful Von Bothmer may have to fall back on Lemberg.

The Russians report the capture of many guns and more than 3,000 prisoners on the various sectors of the eastern front.

Through the official communications with respect to the battles along the Austro-Italian front give only a meager idea of the situation as a whole that issued by the Italian war office indicates that the artillery and infantry fighting is of a continuous and desperate nature. The Austrian war office is silent regarding the operations against the Italians.

front that the correspondent finds difficulty in sifting the main currents of the operations. The Associated Press correspondent in a pregnant phrase records what is perhaps one of the most significant features when he says "the amazing change from trench warfare to that of an army in progress."

The same striking features come out in an interesting review of the operations which the Associated Press has obtained in an interview with Major General F. B. Maurice, who predicts an immediate development south of the Somme where he says the fighting now is in open field formation.

SITUATION SATISFIES ENGLAND.

All official dispatches speak confidently of the satisfactory situation on the British front, a notable incident being the surrender of a complete Prussian infantry battalion with officers to the British near Fricourt. German prisoners are beginning to arrive in England, 1500 being landed at Southampton today.

In the face of the exciting events on the western front, the Russian operations to some extent have been lost sight of, but they are of increasing interest. Reports in the Austrian official communications of the fighting southeast of Timmach indicate that General von Bothmer's forces must have fallen back from the Tarnopol front in an effort to meet the threat to his communications. It is thought that von Bothmer may be forced to retire to Lemberg.

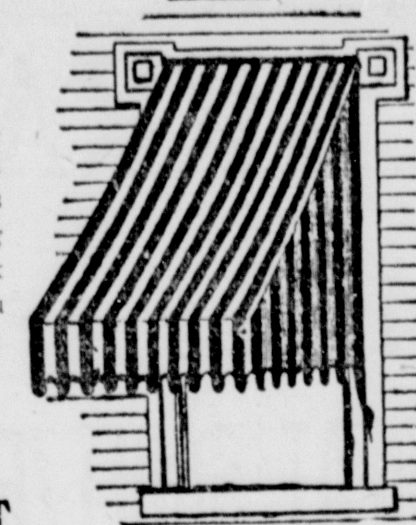

An attack by land and sea against Field Marshal von Hindenburg's forces in the north, together with a new Russian attack at Baranovitchi promises interesting developments which are likely to have an influence in the Baltic region where the Germans hitherto have been able to hold the Russians.

Lincoln Gets Three Years.

London, July 4.—A sentence of three years penal service was today imposed upon Ignatius Tribich, Lincoln, the self-styled German spy, who recently confessed to forgery at his preliminary hearing on that charge.

A Summer Porch Is Not Giving Full Value Without an Awning

An awning not only shuts out the direct rays of the sun, but the reflected glare from the street as well. It gives a soft light to the room and admits all the breeze there is, while it cuts off the sun. Let our awning man call upon you and talk awnings—no harm done if you decide not to put up any.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get two ounces of plain powdered nerosin from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin—pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get them out after they become hard. The powdered nerosin and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anybody troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

World's Best Woman Baseball Coach

Mrs. Florence Kent Tibbets.

Atlanta, Ga., July 4.—Atlanta is the home of the champion woman baseball coach of the world—Mrs. Florence Kent Tibbets, supervisor of the Atlanta Playgrounds association, and organizer of the playgrounds normal, the only think of its kind in the south.

Just to look at Mrs. Tibbets you probably wouldn't think that she, weighing scarcely one hundred pounds, could direct a baseball team composed of young men, jump frantically along the sidelines, direct her team members when to "relieve" and even go so far as to call the umpire a "robber."

But Mrs. Tibbets makes no bones about it. When the umpire doesn't treat her team right she tells him exactly what she thinks about it. But she stamped her foot when the direct question was put to her, and with all her energy emphasized that she has not followed the masculine prerogative and has never called an umpire anything worse than "robber."

The almost inconceivable record of winning seventy-one out of a possible seventy-two games gives Mrs. Tibbets an undisputed title to being the world's champion baseball coach. And yet that is exactly what she did. Her team was one of twelve in Washington, made up of young men of the playgrounds, schools and parks. Mrs. Tibbets was the only woman baseball coach in the league. When Mrs. Tibbets announced that she would assume the management of the Mount Pleasant playground team, the news was accepted as though it were a huge joke. But her boys went to it. They lost only one game of the entire seventy-two, and that game went fourteen innings and was lost only by a score of three to two.

Ill Health the Cause—Many Alarming Symptoms of Women's Ailments—How Cured.

Paterson, N.J.—"I thank you for the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies as they have made me feel happy and healthy. Some time ago I felt so run down, had pains in my back and side, was very irregular, tired, nervous, had such bad dreams, did not feel like eating and had short breath. I read your advertisement in the newspapers and decided to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It worked from the first bottle, so I took a second and a third, also a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and now I am just as well as any other woman. I advise every woman, single or married, who is troubled with any of the above-said ailments, to try your wonderful Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier and I am sure they will help her to get rid of her troubles."—Mrs. ELISE J. A GLIMPSE OF THE EUROPEAN STRUGGLE

HOW THE MUD AND BLOOD-STAINED SOLDIERS SEE IT.

In View of the Terrific Firing Casualties Are Remarkably Small, Say Officers.

Headquarters of the British Army in France, July 4.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—These young Canadians in khaki playing baseball in a Belgian pasture could tell you what the shell fire at Verdun was like. They had been under it—the worst that has been known on the British front. Around them was the utter quiet of the countryside. The distance the guns were still growling around Sorrel Hill, Sactuary Wood and Hooge, the scene of the Canadians' greatest battle in France.

Mud-stained, blood-stained, they had come away from the bloody piles of dirt which had been their trenches and after a long sleep they had wondered why they were alive and started to play baseball to pass the time till they should go into the trenches again. They had been in the thick of it from 8:30 a. m. till 1:30 p. m. on June 2nd, right in the apex of the Ypres salient, that bend in the line which had stuck out as invitingly to the Germans as the Verdun salient for more than a year.

The Germans could arrange their guns in a fan-shape around it as they could at Verdun; and they did. When their guns began to speak, the old inhabitants of the Ypres salient agreed that it was the worst ever. Nobody on the spot ever supposed that there were so many guns in either the German or the British army.

But the officer inside the farmhouse sitting at the farmer's dining room table could tell all about it—his small part of it. He and his men had been in and out of the trenches on their shifts till they were quite used to the monotony of the trench life and the daily wastage. The morning of June 2 was very quiet. A general who was taken prisoner afterward was making an inspection. An occasional crack of a bullet over head and an occasional shot in answer. At 8:30 the inferno broke without any more warning than a boiler explosion. They always do, British, or French, or German.

"Five-point nine" (that is, 5.9-inch German shell), "whizz-bangs," trench-mortar shells and "Silent Liz-zies" (a naval gun shell of high velocity which is not heard coming until it bursts). "I knew what we were in for," said the officer.

Anybody with any experience at the front would know. At any time one side wants to concentrate its artillery on a certain frontage of trench that frontage is bound to go down; and the attacking side can rush its infantry in and take the debris. The difficulty is to hold it. This time the shells were coming from the front and both sides. According to the usual system, they were laid on both the front and the support trenches with a curtain of fire between the two.

"You know the kind of country it is," this quiet young officer from Toronto went on. Nature as well as the shells is against the soldier. If he digs a trench water fills it. Mostly he must depend on sandbags—roofs and walls of sandbags. He cannot dig cellar, he cannot feel under the earth and crawl into them when the "cloudburst of hell" descends, as in hilly and mountainous country. So nobody ever has a good word to say about the Ypres salient except the peasants. The soil is rich. "We had no orders to go," said the officer. "We stuck."

They could not fire back at those guns thousands of yards away with their rifles. No one was showing his head in the German trench opposite. If a man leaned over a section of parapet remaining to fire he and it might be blown away by another shell. The only thing to do was for each man to find a fresh shell-hole if no parapet remained and wait. Messengers in such stances, be it the British or German side, have one chance of five in surviving if they try to go or come from the rear.

"Fifteen hours of this! Then at 1:30 in the afternoon orders to retreat did arrive. That officer from Toronto gathered the remnants of his command and the honors of shrapnel bullets and in the midst of geysers from the high explosives. Just as he was starting the tornado suddenly ceased. This meant the German infantry charges. As the Canadians started taking what cover they could in a half obliterated communication trench they had a glimpse over their shoulders of the Germans arriving. German rifles and machine gun fire followed them on their way back to the support trenches, taking a final toll; then the British guns turned their tornado on the Germans in their new positions and the support trenches blazed their rifle fire into German charges.

Another officer in another farmhouse—this one from British Columbia—He is pleased with the coat he wore when he went through a curtain of fire. A piece of shell had cut a big rent under the arm without even penetrating through his undershirt. "I had a hunch that I would come through all right when I started."

His orders were to go up in reinforcement. He went. One shell struck in the midst of a platoon and got only one man. That was "some luck," too. Men fell, but the command went on to the counter attack.

"Those who are in the thick of it certainly get it hot," said another officer. "Each company in the thick of it thinks for the time being that it is fighting the whole war. Its casualty list looks pretty bad. But when you take the losses of a division as a whole, you are surprised at the small percentage."

A Speedy Return. (Saturday Evening Post.) There is a negro waiter at a hotel in Savannah who calls himself Speedy. He claims to be the fastest waiter in the known world.

Last year the New York team of the American league did its spring training at Savannah. The members of the team stopped at the hotel that Speedy was working with his presence and services. He presided over the table where Owner Huston and Manager Donovan sat for their meals and, with his thoughts on efficient tips, strove mightily to please them.

One morning for breakfast Donovan ordered buttered toast. When Speedy brought the toast it was in a thoroughly chilled state.

"Look here, boy," stated Donovan. "I told you I wanted hot toast. This toast is cold as a wedge."

For a moment Speedy scratched his head. Then inspiration came to him.

"Boss," he said, "I come runnin' wid dat toast so quick I reckon de draft must 'a' chilled it."

SURPRISE DINNER FOR MRS. MARSHALL SURRATT

A dinner on Monday evening which afforded much pleasure to several was a surprise for Mrs. Surratt by her daughter, Mrs. Mattie Surratt Jennings. Mrs. Surratt was invited to the Hippodrome to give opportunity for arrangement and upon her return was greeted by guests bidden to share in the surprise. A four course dinner was beautifully served and a birthday cake with sixteen pink candles and a saucy interrogation point told the cause of the merriment. None enjoyed the birthday party more than Mrs. Surratt, for her happy, fun-loving disposition have kept her "sixteen" at heart though the actual years number more. Covers were laid for Judge and Mrs. Surratt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Sam McLendon, Mrs. J. W. Hayes of Denison, Mrs. Callie Nolin, Mrs. Mattie Surratt Jennings, Miss Pauline McLendon.

The June party at the Huaco club on Monday morning, in which Miss Pauline McLendon complimented Miss Genevieve Carver of Wichita Falls, gave favor to Japanese effect, which was employed as a background for the table and the simplicity that characterizes Japanese floral arrangements contributed to the charming Oriental setting for this unusually pleasant occasion.

MISS OUIDA FERGUSON IS COMPLETED

One of the most enjoyable dances of the season, in which a large number of the younger society set participated, was that given by Mr. and Mrs. Ludwell T. Williams on Monday evening in honor of Miss Ouida Ferguson, who is the guest of the home of Mrs. Williams. Miss Ferguson is the daughter of Governor James E. Ferguson of Austin. The handsome ball room of the Elks formed the scene of the event, the polished floor of which was ideal for dancing, and to the time of beautiful music from Rovello's orchestra a program dance and other numbers were joyously tripped.

In the celebration of our national holiday, patriotic colors were favored in the prettiest of decorations, red, white and blue being used in graceful arrangement. The orchestra was hidden by a wealth of palms flag-draped above. Smaller flags waved from ceiling and window light, and cast a festive air over the scene.

To the strains of "Dixie" Mr. Walter V. Ford led the grand march with Miss Helen Williams, followed by Origan McCullough and Miss Ferguson. From then until the late hours joy was unconfined.

A noticeably pretty feature was the red, white and blue balloons, favors for the girls, and flags for the boys.

A Fine Aid For Mother-to-be

We are all greatly indebted to those who tell their experiences. And among the many things which we read about and are of immediate importance to the expectant mother, is a splendid external remedy called "Mother's Friend." This is applied over the muscles of the stomach. It is a deeply penetrating, its influence. Mothers everywhere tell of its soothing effect, how it allays pains incident to stretching of cords, ligaments and muscles. They tell of restful comfort, of calm, peaceful nights, an absence of those distressing periods, the period of expectancy, relief from morning sickness, no more of that apprehension with which so many young women's minds become burdened help. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" from your nearest druggist. Ask your husband to get it for you. Then write to Bradford Regulator Co., 405 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a very handsome and instructive book. It is filled with suggestive ideas of great help to all women interested in the subject of maternity. And best of all are some letters from mothers that are real inspirations. Write today.

The flags were arched for this bevy of pretty girls to march through. All during the evening a refreshing punch was served. At the intermission a delicious ice course carried out the red, white and blue motif. Everywhere the warm, cozy taste of Mrs. Williams prevailed. This was a beautiful courtesy gracefully received by Miss Ferguson. Invited as assistant chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Massey, Mr. and Mrs. William Holt, Mrs. Robert Hill of Huntsville, Mrs. Henrietta Habor of Walnut Springs, Mrs. Bettie Gray Rollinson, Lorena. The dancers were: Misses Camille Searcy, Fay Smith, Cora Willis of Corsicana, Virginia Eddins, Marie Moore, Gailly Wilkes, Adrienne Wilkey, Mary Louise Woolfolk, Claire Richardson, Maude Richardson, Florence Freid, Nell Orand, Ouida Ferguson of Austin, Dorothy Kepler, Ardelle Ellis, Nancy Rosh Clisbee, Katharine Risher, Florrie Neale Cooper, Erin McDaniel, Pauline Breustadt, Hester Foster, Eleanor Cameron, Francis Grider, Katherine Stratton, Polly Smith, Mosart Harry Gorman, Dick Holt of West, Scott Hill, Martin Hardin, William Duncan, Holt Massey, Herman Olenbush, Jno. Maccabee Great Camp Up to Headquarters for Decision

The proposition to establish in Texas a Great Camp of the Maccabees, which was voted on favorably by the Maccabees of the state recently, will now go to Detroit, the headquarters of the organization, for final action.

There are still some obstacles in the way of the matter, but it is hoped to be able to remove these successfully and secure the Great Camp for this state. Maccabees declare that it is badly needed and are anxious to see it established.

The final consideration which is to be given the matter probably will be given the case in Detroit about August 9, next. A strong delegation from Texas doubtless will be present when the matter comes up.

Waco is anxious to see the Great Camp established, and in case it is decided to establish it, the chances are that this city will be chosen as headquarters, many think.

POLICE CATCH NEGRO FARM HANDS WHO ROB AT POINT OF KNIVES

En route to his home in Hallsburg with four negroes that he had gotten in the city for chopping cotton, J. B. Kelly was held up while driving his wagon in East Waco last night by his prospective farm hands. He was forced to give over about $12 at the point of knives in the hands of the negroes. Quick police work following the alarm resulted in Assistant Chief Charlie James and Sergeant Joe Rutland catching the entire quartette wanted in connection with the stick-up. Kelly had just gotten to the city limits when the negroes, armed and dressed to demand his money and valuables.

To Have Perfect Skin Throughout the Summer

These days the face needs special care and attention. Flying dust and dirt, the heating sun, are severe on any skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of pure mercolized wax. This keeps skin and pores in a cleanly condition, the complexion beautifully white and spotless. Discolored, freckled and roughened cuticle are actually absorbed by it. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drugstore, is sufficient to completely renovate a soiled complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on overnight, and washed off in the morning.

As the skin tends to expand in warm weather, causing wrinkles to form, a good astringent lotion should be used. Dissolve 1 oz. powdered salicylic in 1/2 pt. witch hazel. Bathe the face in this during the heat of the day or before going out in theatre or social affairs. It is a remarkable skin tightener and wrinkle eraser.

CURE FOR TOOTHACHE.

Spirit of Dead Snake Is Doing the Work in Japan.

The huge snake that has been leading a precarious existence at the Suma gardens, Kobe, during the three years, a captive in a different climate from that in which it was born—recently died, unable to bear the rigors of the winter. Although the reptile was a magnificent specimen of its species, as it measured twenty-five feet in length and twenty-eight inches around the thickest part, it never made itself unpleasantly obtrusive. It was interred in the pine groves at the rear of the Kasetsu restaurant.

Some one made the discovery on looking at an almanac that the day on which the reptile died was a day of the snake, and remembered an old superstition that toothache may be cured by worshipping a snake. The grave of the Suna snake consequently began to be visited by the superstitious, who proclaimed to the world the supernatural means of healing toothache by worshipping there.

The report has since traveled far and wide, and scores of people are visiting the grave every day, bringing much

Mrs. Florence Kent Tibbets.

Atlanta, Ga., July 4.—Atlanta is the home of the champion woman baseball coach of the world—Mrs. Florence Kent Tibbets, supervisor of the Atlanta Playgrounds association, and organizer of the playgrounds normal, the only think of its kind in the south.

Just to look at Mrs. Tibbets you probably wouldn't think that she, weighing scarcely one hundred pounds, could direct a baseball team composed of young men, jump frantically along the sidelines, direct her team members when to "slide," and even go so far as to call the umpire a "robber."

But Mrs. Tibbets makes no bones about it. When the umpire doesn't treat her team right, she tells him exactly what she thinks about it. But she stamped her foot when the direct question was put to her, and with all her energy emphasized that she has not followed the masculine prerogative and has never called an umpire anything worse than "robber."

The almost inconceivable record of winning seventy-one out of a possible seventy-two games gives Mrs. Tibbets the undisputed title to being the world's champion baseball coach. And yet that is exactly what she did. Her team was one of twelve in Washington, made up of young men of the playgrounds, schools and parks. Mrs. Tibbets was the only woman baseball coach in the league.

When Mrs. Tibbets announced that she would assume the management of the Mount Pleasant playground team the news was accepted as though it was a huge joke. But her boys went to it. They lost only one game of the entire season, and that game went four innings and was lost only by a score of three to two.

BAD DREAMS ARE SYMPTOMS

Health the Cause—Many Alarming Symptoms of Women's Ailments—How Cured.

Paterson, N.J.—"I thank you for the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies as they have made me feel happy and healthy. Some time ago I felt so run down, had pains in my back and side, was very nervous, had such bad dreams, did not feel like eating and had short breath. I read your advertisement in the newspapers and decided to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It worked from the first bottle, so I took a second and a third, also a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and now I am just as well as any other woman. I advise every woman, single or married, who is troubled with any of the above ailments, to try your wonderful Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier and I am sure they will help her to get rid of her troubles."—Mrs. ELISE J. VANDER SANDE, 7 Godwin Street, Paterson, N. J.

A GLIMPSE OF THE EUROPEAN STRUGGLE

HOW THE MUD AND BLOOD-STAINED SOLDIERS SEE IT.

In View of the Terrific Firing Casualties Are Remarkably Small, Say Officers.

Headquarters of the British Army in France, July 4.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—These young Canadians in khaki playing baseball in a Belgium pasture could tell you what the shell fire at Verdun was like. They had been under it—the worst that has been known on the British front. Around them was the utter quiet of the Ypres salient. In the distance the guns were still growing around Sorrel Hill, Sactuary Wood and Hooze, the scene of the Canadians' greatest battle in France.

Mud-stained blood-stained, they had come away from the bloody piles of dirt which had been their trenches and after a long sleep they had wondered why they were alive and started to play baseball to pass the time till they should go into the trenches again. They had been in the thick of it from 8:30 a. m. till 1:30 p. m., on June 2nd, right in the apex of the Ypres salient, that bend in the line which had stuck out as invitingly to the Germans as the Verdun salient for more than a year.

The Germans could arrange their shells to fall around them as they could at Verdun; and they did. When their guns began to speak, the British guns spoke back; and even the old habits of the Ypres salient agreed that it was the worst ever. Nobody on the spot ever supposed that there were so many guns in either the German or the British army.

But the officers inside the farmhouse sitting on the farmer's dining room table could tell all about it—his small part of it. He and his men had been in and out of the trenches on their shifts till they were quite used to the monotony of the trench life and the daily wastage. The morning of June 2 was very quiet. A general who was taken prisoner afterward was making an inspection. An occasional crack of a bullet over head and an occasional shot in answer! At 8:30 the inferno broke without any more warning than a boiler explosion. They always do, British, or French, or German.

"Five-point nines" (that new 5.9-inch German shell), "whizz-bangs," trench-mortar shells and "Silent Lizards" (a naval gun shell of high velocity which is not heard coming until it bursts). "I knew what we were in for," said the officer.

Anybody with any experience at the front would know. At any time either side wants to concentrate its artillery on a certain frontage of trench that frontage is bound to go down; and the attacking side can run its shells in and take the debris. The difficulty is to hold it. This time the shells were coming from the front and both sides. According to the usual system, they were laid on both the front and the support trenches with a curtain of fire between the two.

"You know the kind of country it is," this quiet young officer from Toronto went on.

Nature as well as the shells is against the soldier. If he digs a trench water fills it. Mostly he must depend on sandbags—roofs and walls of sandbags. He cannot dig cellars twenty feet under the earth and crawl into them when the "cloudburst of hell" descends, as in hilly and mountainous country. So nobody ever has a good word to say about the Ypres salient except the peasants. The soil is rich.

"We had no orders to go," said the officer. "We stuck."

They could not fire back at those thousands of yards away with their rifles. No one was showing his head in the German trench opposite. If a man leaned over a section of parapet remaining to fire he and it might be blown away by another shell. The only thing to do was for each man to find any kind of cover he could in a fresh shell-hole if no parapet remained and wait. Messengers in such instances, he said, the British or German side, have one chance of five in surviving if they try to go or come from the rear.

Five hours of this! Then at 1:30 in the afternoon orders to retreat did arrive.

That officer from Toronto gathered the remnants of his command under the showers of shrapnel bullets and in the midst of the chaos of the world's champion baseball coach. And yet that is exactly what she did. Her team was one of twelve in Washington, made up of young men of the playgrounds, schools and parks. Mrs. Tibbets was the only woman baseball coach in the league.

When Mrs. Tibbets announced that she would assume the management of the Mount Pleasant playground team the news was accepted as though it was a huge joke. But her boys went to it. They lost only one game of the entire season, and that game went four innings and was lost only by a score of three to two.

Another officer in another farmhouse—this one from British Columbia. He is pleased with the coat he wore when he went through a curtain of fire. A pair of shell holes cut a big mark under the arm without even penetrating through his undershirt.

"Some luck, eh?" he said. "I had a hunch that I would come through all right when I started."

His orders were to go up in reinforcement. He went. One shell struck in the midst of a platoon and got only one man. That was "some luck," too. Men fell, but the command went on to the counter attack.

"Those who are in the thick of it certainly get it hot," said another officer. "Each company in the thick of it is fighting the whole war. Its casualty list looks pretty bad. But when you take the losses of a division as a whole, you are surprised at the small percentage."

A Speedy Return. (Saturday Evening Post.) There is a negro waiter at a hotel in Savannah who calls himself Speedy. He claims to be the fastest waiter in the known world.

Last year the New York team of the American league did its spring training at Savannah. The members of the team stopped at the hotel that Speedy ornaments with his presence and services. He presided over the table where the team ate their meals and, with his thoughts on oiled tips, strove mightily to please them.

One morning for breakfast Donovan ordered buttered toast. When Speedy brought the toast it was in a thoroughly chilled state.

"Look here, boy," stated Donovan. "I told you I wanted hot toast. This toast is cold as a wedge."

For a moment Speedy scratched his head. Then inspiration came to him.

"Boss," he said, "I come runnin' wild dat toast so quick I reckon de drift must 'a' chilled it."

SURPRISE DINNER FOR MRS. MARSHALL SURRATT

A dinner on Monday evening which afforded much pleasure to several was a surprise for Mrs. Marshall Surratt. Mrs. Surratt was invited to the Hippodrome to give opportunity for a surprise and upon her return was greeted by guests bidden to share in the surprise. A four course dinner was beautifully served and a birthday cake with sixteen pink candles and a saucy interrogation point told the cause of the merriment. None enjoyed the birthday party more than Mrs. Surratt, for her happy, fun-loving disposition have kept her "sixteen" at heart through the actual years number more. Covers were laid for Judge and Mrs. Surratt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Sam McLenon, Mrs. J. W. Hayes of Denison, Mrs. Mattie Suratt Jennings, Miss Pauline McLenon.

MISS PAULINE M'LENDON HAS PRETTY BRIDGE LUNCHEON

The June party at the Huaco club on Monday morning, in which Miss Pauline McLenon complimented Miss Genevieve Carver of Wichita Falls, gave favor to Japanese effect, which gave employed most successfully throughout the bridge game and luncheon. Score cards adorned with quaint Japanese figures or gay-colored figures were used. Japanese garden formed the center decoration for the table and the simplicity that characterizes Japanese floral arrangements contributed to the charming Oriental setting for this unusually pleasant occasion.

In merry games of bridge the prizes went to Miss Ruth Evans, a Japanese bag. Miss Carver was presented a similar bag as guest prize. A six course luncheon was served at the conclusion of this enjoyable morning to Misses Francis Hays, Ethel Foster, Lucile Lewis, Katherine Key, Anna Faye Jones, Ruth Evans, with the honor and hostess. The mother, Mrs. Sam McLenon, matronized the affair.

MISS OUIDA FERGUSON IS COMPLIMENTED

One of the most enjoyable dances of the season, in which a large number of the young set were present, was that given by Mr. and Mrs. Ludwell T. Williams on Monday evening in honor of Miss Ouida Ferguson, who is the guest of their niece, Miss Helen Williams. Miss Ferguson is the daughter of Governor James E. Ferguson of Austin. The handsome ball room of the Elks formed the scene of the event, the polished floors of which are ideal for dancing, and to the time of beautiful music from Rovello's orchestra a program dance and other numbers were joyously tripped.

In recognition of our national holiday, patriotic colors were favored in the prettiest of decorations, red, white and blue being used in graceful arrangement. The orchestra was hidden above small flags waved from ceiling and window light, and cast a festive air over the scene.

To the strains of "Dixie" Mr. Walter V. Ford led the grand march with Miss Helen Williams followed by Ouida Ferguson and Miss Ferguson. From then until the late hours joy was unconfined.

A noticeably pretty feature was the red, white and blue balloons, favored for the girls, and flags for the boys.

A Fine Aid For Mother-to-be

We are all greatly indebted to those who tell their experiences. And among the many things which we read and hear are of immediate importance to the expectant mother, is a splendidly extended remedy called "Mother's Friend." This is applied over the muscles of the back, and has a most penetrating influence. Mothers everywhere tell of its relief of the aching, heavy, and painful muscles of the back, and of the relief of the aching, heavy, and painful muscles of the back, and of the relief of the aching, heavy, and painful muscles of the back.

The proposition to establish in Texas a Great Camp of the Macabees, which was voted on favorably by the Macabees of the state recently, will now go to Detroit, the headquarters of the organization, for final action.

There are still some obstacles in the way of the matter, but it is hoped to be able to remove these successfully and secure the Great Camp for this state. Macabees declare that it is badly needed and are anxious to see it established.

The final consideration which is to be given the matter probably will be given the case in Detroit about August 9, next. A strong delegation from Texas doubtless will be present when the matter comes up.

Waco is anxious to see the Great Camp established, and in the case it is decided to establish it, the chances are that this city will be chosen as headquarters, many think.

The flags were arched for this bevy of pretty girls to march through.

All during the evening a refreshing punch was served. At the intermission a delicious ice course carried out the red, white and blue motif. Everywhere the well known taste of Mrs. Williams prevailed. This was a beautiful courtesy gracefully received by Miss Ferguson. Invited as assistant were Mrs. J. S. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Massey, Mr. and Mrs. William Holt, Mrs. Robert Hill of Huntsville, Mrs. Henrietta Habor of Walnut Springs, Mrs. Bettie Grey Robinson, Lorena. The dancers were: Misses Camille Searcy, Fay Smith, Cora Willis of Corsicana, Virginia Eddens, Marie Moore, Galley Wilkes, Adeline Wilkes, Mary Louise Woodfolk, Claire Richardson, Maude Richardson, Florence Freid, Nell Grand, Ouida Ferguson of Austin, Dorothy Kepler, Ardelle Ellis, Nancy Rose Gilchrist, Katherine Risher, Florrie Neale Cooper, Erin McDaniell, Pauline Breusted, Hester Foster, Eleanor Cameron, Francis Grier, Katherine Stratton, Polly Smith, Messrs. Harry Gorman, J. L. Strubling, Scott Hill, Martin Hardin, William Duncan, Holt Massey, Herman Olenbusch, Jno. D. Mayfield, Jr., Lawson Puckett, William Puckett, Willard Wigley, Oregan McCullough, M. D. Dugger, Paul Hays, Will D. Mayfield, Earle Farron, Walter V. Fort, Connally Willis, Bruton Grand, William Fall, Staton Bonner, William Smith, Oscar Moore, Ben J. Brown, J. L. Strubling, Harrison Jno. Whitworth, Kyle Drake, Charles Whitman, Billie Wells, William Neale, Miss Westbrook of Coleman, Miss Donnelly of Beaumont.

There is only one thought that everybody is thinking now, and that is the stretching away of our brave ladies to fight for their country. Each day trains filled with soldiers are passing through Waco and are met by the Red Cross society and refreshed with sandwiches or a cooling drink, and there is always the God speed you, good luck to you, God bless you, every one.

POLICE CATCH NEGRO FARM HANDS WHO ROB AT POINT OF KNIVES

En route to his home in Hallsburg with four negroes that he had gotten in the city for chopping cotton, J. B. Kelly was held up while driving his wagon in East Waco last night by his prospective farm hands. He was forced to give over about $12 at the point of knives in the hands of the negroes. Quick police work following the alarm resulted in Assistant Chief Charlie James and Sergeant Joe Rutland catching the entire quartet wanted in connection with the stick-up. Kelly had just gotten to the city limits when the negroes mutilated and drew their knives to demand his money and valuables.

To Have Perfect Skin Throughout the Summer

These days the face needs special care and attention. Flying dust and dirt, the heating sun, are severe on any skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of pure mercolized wax. This keeps skin and pores in a cleanly condition. The complexion beautifully white and spotless. Discolored, freckled and roughened outside are actually absorbed by it. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drugstore, is sufficient to completely renovate a soiled complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on over night, and washed off in the morning. As the skin tends to expand in warm weather, causing wrinkles to form, a good astringent lotion should be used. Dissolve 1 oz. powdered salicylic in 1/2 pt. witch hazel. Bathe the face in this during the heat of the day or before going out for theatre or social affair. It is a remarkable skin tightener and wrinkle eraser.

CURE FOR TOOTHACHE.

Spirit of Dead Snake is Doing the Work in Japan.

The huge snake that has been leading a precarious existence at the Suma gardens, Kobe, during the last three years—a captive in a different climate from that in which it was born—recently died, unable to bear the rigors of the winter. Although the reptile was a magnificent specimen of its species, as it measured twenty-five feet in length and twenty-eight inches around the thickest part, it never made itself unpleasantly obtrusive. It was interred in the pine groves at the rear of the Kasetsu restaurant.

Some one made the discovery on looking at an almanac that the day on which the reptile died was a day of the snake, and remembered an old superstition that toothache may be cured by worshipping a snake.

The grave of the Suna snake consequently began to be visited by the superstitious, who proclaimed to the world the supernatural means of healing toothache by worshipping there.

The report has since traveled far and wide and scores of people are visiting the grave every day, bringing much gain to the Hyogo tramway owners, who need no faith to be assured of the benefits accruing from the virtues of the departed snake. Some of these people whose toothache has been cured by the spirit of the snake have decided to build a shrine on the ground where the reptile was buried. The place has already been fenced in and a sign erected preparatory to the commencement of work.

THE FOURTH IN WACO.

Waco gave a creditable demonstration on yesterday of the spirit of nationalism which abides here. "America first" was voiced and illustrated in many ways. From almost every house-top and window in the business district fluttered the nation's flag.

The events of the last two years, at home and abroad, have everywhere revived the national spirit. The value of our institutions is generally recognized as it never was before. Imperfect, as all things human are, our government stands before the world today as the one spot in the universe where the welfare of the citizen is the chief concern of government.

The American who does not reverence his country and its flag above all other things of an earthly nature needs to be retaught his nation's history and its service to the cause of humanity.

A German correspondent describing the English drive says, "it came as a relief to the German troops from an almost unbearable strain when the bombardment ceased and strong columns advanced. Along the second sector from La Boisselle to the Somme the first line trenches were so demolished that they offered no support for their hard-pressed occupants and retirement was decided upon." It thus appears that the question whether the drive can continue is merely a question whether the English ammunition will hold out. Big guns rule the day. Congress should take notice and see to it that no guns shall be manufactured which can shoot further or carry a bigger bullet than those of Uncle Sam.

Colonel Baker's proposal that a big pool shall be maintained in the Brazos fronting Waco, through the operation of the locks and dams already built, is an excellent suggestion, and our commercial bodies should get behind it. The Brazos property dressed is a minor Mississippi, and it should be held to that attitude.

Carranza now wants to mediate. When the A. B. C. powers proposed to mediate between him and other revolutionary leaders, he contemptuously declined. After an abundant experience, we are justified in concluding that what he really wants is not mediation but procrastination.

Germany threatens a new form of submarine war. In which event, Candidate Hughes will have another chance to go to the country with one of his side-swipes intended to round-up one element without antagonizing another.

Waco is the patriotic center of Texas, as was abundantly proved on yesterday.

DAILY SHORT STORY.

THE LANDLORD.

By LOUISE OLIVER.

Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper.

When moving time came it was unfortunate for Cornelia that both her parents had to be away. Business had taken one, illness the other, and even Ben, her college brother, couldn't make his spring vacation coincide with moving time.

So with black Judas and his wife, Violet, she had managed to get china, rugs and furniture into shape for transportation across the hills above the river. After all it was Cornelia's own idea, the bit of country and the roomy, spread-out place with wide verandas and iron trees, so different from the high, narrow city house, the counterpart of thousands on streets exactly alike except for the names.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson had taken root, so to speak, in the brick and cement of the city and it had taken many months of persuasion for Cornelia to convince them that view and fresh air and individuality would compensate for increased expense of living and time enable them to buy a motor car.

For days Cornelia had scoured agencies and scanned lists waded through mags and lost her way, ruined clothes and caught colds, and altogether it had been a most disheartening process. But her courage remained unbroken and her will at last found a way. For one day she came across what she wanted—exactly! A bungalow on a hillside with a superb view of the river. This was no more house, it was explained to her at the office, the owner having built it for himself, but he was an Englishman and had gone to war and was now somewhere in the trenches in France.

Moving day came. Cornelia rose at six and after a hurried breakfast took the car to her future home. It was a wonderful morning, cool and brisk, and even the bare streets of the city found it impossible to crowd out spring bits of clover and grass were making green patches in every available inch of ground, dead looking branches were being rapidly covered with yellowish green buds, and behind several iron fences leave patches of tulips and jonquils bloomed. As the car sped on and the distances between houses widened, nature showed her handiwork in gardens of wonderful shrubs and spring flowers. "It's just like getting out of jail!" thought Cornelia, watching a fat robin on a lawn tug at a worm. "It is worth all the tramping and hard work to be

BROOKS OR COLQUITT.

Judge Riddle withdraws from the senatorial race in an address to the democrats of Texas that is surcharged with the spirit of earnest patriotism. He declares that the saloon is not worth anything to anybody, and recognizes that by remaining in the race, he might jeopardize the cause which is pledged to oppose it all along the line.

The announcement by Judge Riddle that he will support the candidacy of Dr. Brooks will add materially to its strength. Judge Riddle has made a vigorous canvass, which has been characterized by dignity, force and sincerity. He has made a strong appeal to the virtue and intelligence of the state, and his friends and supporters are found in every community. He is on the right side of public questions; the side which stands for progress, and cleanliness, and justice; he is in the very prime of life; the state has need for men of his type and his capacity for public service.

The campaign has now progressed far enough to determine with reasonable accuracy how it stands. The major part of Judge Riddle's support will go to Dr. Brooks. Already it was apparent that the race was between him and whoever should prove to be the leader on the other side. The News has no commission to pick that leader. Conditions have made him, and his name is O. B. Colquitt. An effort has been made by leading anti to pull him out of the race, but he has refused to withdraw. He has the support of all of the opponents of the national administration and the support of many of the anti but this will not be enough.

There is enough money on hand in Texas right now, if put in active circulation, to convert every nook and corner into a busy hive of industry. And the movement has started to put it in circulation.

Judge Riddle eliminates himself in order to promote the cause nearest his heart. That's the kind of elimination that works, and that nobody can say aught against.

This country raises chickens and eggs worth $6,000,000 every year, not counting the bad eggs. The domineer hen is doing her part towards preparedness.

Drain Amsterdam Lake.

Amsterdam, Netherlands, July 4.—The draining of the inland lake of 35,000 acres formed north of Amsterdam by the disastrous floods of January last has been completed, save for one or two deeper "polders" or basins in the area in question, which are to be free of the invading waters by the end of the present month. The construction and installation of the giant pumping plant on the restored Zuider Zee dikes was carried out in four weeks, and the actual pumping took another four, so that the problem of removing something like 200,000,000 cubic meters of water was dealt with in a matter of two months only. So far as Dutch engineers are aware, this is an unequalled feat in any other country in the world. The advance made by modern hydrographic engineering may be gathered from the fact that after the floods of February, 1825, the draining took until July, 1828, lasting thus a period of seventeen months.

Y. M. C. A. WILL AID IN PATRIOTIC WORK HERE

LEAGUE WILL FURNISH AUTOS FOR THE SOLDIERS AND GIVE POST CARDS.

Good Roads Committee Asks for Better Connecting Roads—Post-Pone Survey.

The Young Men's Business league took a decided stand for putting Waco to the front as the City Patriotic last night. Measures were taken to entertain the soldiers who pass through the city, to give them assortments of post card views of Waco and to make Waco a city of Stars and Stripes.

W. V. Crawford made a motion, which carried unanimously, to the effect that the league would give its endorsement to the previous action in behalf of permanent display of flags—to insist that flags up at present are, in fact, not permanent and that broken ones be replaced.

To secure automobiles sufficient to meet the trains and give at least some of the officers and soldiers rides over the city during their stop here, the following committee was appointed: W. T. Wheeler, T. H. Williams and W. W. Woodson. This committee will get a line on the schedule of trains and have autos waiting for a spin. The committee to secure post card views of the prominent places of the city to be placed in an envelope for easy distribution is composed of W. V. Crawford, John F. Wright and J. W. Carlin. Cards will be secured in sufficient numbers to give each soldier a packet. This work will begin immediately.

Looking toward the arrangement for a special train of Wacoans to the Mart fair, July 12, on Waco Day, the trade trip committee of the league, with Mr. Crawford as chairman, was delegated to this task.

R. E. L. Montgomery and John F. Wright, reporting on the last excursion to Tyler, declared that the schedule for the number of stops and the amount of time at each place was an exceptional one. They made the announcement that they would be pleased to refund half of the league meal ticket to any one making the trip who was dissatisfied with the evening meal.

Forrest E. Goodman and W. A. Poage, speaking for the committee on good roads, expressed the hope that better connecting roads would be built in the near future between the good roads of McLennan county and neighboring counties. The need of better connections between the city pavements and the country pikes was also stressed.

W. H. Woytek and Method Padral of West were named for a conference to be held with W. C. Crawford and W. A. Poage, R. E. L. Montgomery and R. B. Dupree relative to the establishment of a grand lodge of the Bohemian fraternity in this city.

An invitation was wired the Texas Letter Carriers, now in session at Austin, to hold their next meeting in Waco. The telegram was sent by President Perry Duncan.

Dr. De Haas of the University of Texas, who was scheduled to have conducted the grand industrial survey of Waco, is out of the state for the summer and the survey will be postponed to next fall, it was announced last night.

Little Old Want Ad Brings Back Purse and Two Dollars

Do people read Morning News want ads?

For instance, a certain Waco lady carried a little notice in yesterday's Morning News that a purse had been lost. It contained $2 in money and some trinkets. At 8 o'clock yesterday morning the finder of her purse had returned it.

"I saw your notice in the Morning News," she said.

with a little more tolerance. I will not be hasty retreat and take my cook stove and roasting chairs along with me."

Cornelia, completely mollified, held out the key. "Under the circumstances we have no more right to the house than you have. I can't possibly move our furniture into it knowing that I am leaving an American and a gentleman out in the cold without any home."

They laughed together. "That," he protested, "isn't exactly leaving me without a home. I really was only going to use the place as a sort of storage house for my things for the time being."

"I don't see how you could get here so quickly," Her brows drew together. "Mr. O'Hagan said it would be an hour's ride. The sound of the trucks had stopped in front of the bungalow."

"I don't see how they could get here so quickly," Her brows drew together. "Mr. O'Hagan said it would be an hour's ride. The sound of the trucks had stopped in front of the bungalow."

"Then someone else moving out this way?" she commented and inserted her key in the lock. The sound of the trucks had stopped in front of the bungalow.

J. W. CARLIN GREATLY PLEASED AT MEETING OF NATIONAL AD MEN

J. W. Carlin, advertising manager for the Goldstein-Migel company, returned to Waco yesterday, having attended the world convention of advertising men in Philadelphia last week. Mr. Carlin, who has been attending the ad men's conventions for nearly ten years past, declared the 1916 convention to be the largest and most successful ever held. It was attended by advertising men from every state in the union, and from several foreign countries. The speakers were men of national prominence in the business of advertising, and Mr. Carlin's opinion the convention was exceedingly beneficial to every one who attended it.

"To meet with all these men, each interested in elevating the profession of advertising and making it more efficient," said Mr. Carlin today, "gives a man a higher regard for the business of advertising, and sends him home filled with a fresh interest in his work."

"One subject which received particular attention was the percentage of sales which should be spent for advertising by a department store. The table of percentages presented by the speaker who handled this subject will be used by hundreds of stores all over the country to guide them in their advertising expenditures during the coming year. And of particular interest to Waco people in this connection is the fact that this table of percentages was made up from twenty-one representative stores, one of which was the Goldstein-Migel company of Waco. As advertising manager for Goldstein-Migel, I naturally feel quite proud of the fact that our store is one of the twenty-one in the entire United States whose advertising schedules will furnish the national standard for the coming year. "Lavish entertainment was provided for the convention visitors by the hospitable Philadelphians, and if anyone didn't have the time of his life, it was his own fault."

Mr. Carlin expressed himself as being glad to be back in Waco, where he will immediately resume his duties as advertising manager for Goldstein-Migel. The big July Clearance Sale at the G-M store, this great annual selling event, now in its second week, is scoring a pronounced success, keeping all departments of the big Austin street store busy every day.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS.

The city was given over to patriotism yesterday afternoon, and most all places of business were closed. Waco is intensely patriotic and shows this whenever occasion is given.

The picnics yesterday at Bruceville and Speegleville are reported by those who attended to have been very successful ones. The attendance was large, considering the fact that farmers are quite busy now.

The Boy Scout band played for the Bruceville picnic yesterday, and have engagements for the Mart fair and the picnic at Ocoee. The organization is getting to be quite well known and is enjoying a fine reputation.

CALL WACO DOCTOR FOR ARMY SERVICE

Dr. Doyle L. Eastland, who is surgeon in charge at the government lock and dam below Waco, has received a telegram from the department of the surgeon-general in Washington, D. C., instructing him to report for active duty at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, immediately.

Dr. Eastland will be assigned to service in the medical corps of the United States, this meaning that he will be transferred from the reserve corps to the regular army, and doubtless means promotion at once. Dr. Eastland, who is president of the McLennan County Medical society, is highly regarded in Waco, both personally and professionally.

Dr. Eastland has been in charge of medical work at the lock and dam since December, 1912, and he was made first lieutenant in the medical reserve corps last January, the appointment coming from President Wilson.

To reach the people, and all of them are busy.

The lock and dam below Waco are being thoroughly tested out at present, and announcement will be made at an early date of the time when the water will be backed up towards Waco in full force. This is expected at a very early date.

A few committees have been appointed in connection with Labor Day, already, and others will be named a little later. It is proposed to make the celebration this year one of the most impressive held in some time. Arrangements will gradually broaden from this time on until the observance of Labor Day in September.

Prof. Behring Resigns. Berlin, July 4.—It is announced that Prof. Von Behring, famous throughout the world as discoverer of the diphtheria serum, has resigned his position at the University of Marburg and from the directorship of the Institute of Experimental Therapy, which was founded especially to give him an opportunity to carry on his scientific investigations. It was in this institution that he discovered and worked out several years ago a serum against tetanus or lockjaw, which, during the present war, has enabled the German medical staff to combat that dreaded disease with complete success. He did much of his early work as the assistant of Prof. Robert Koch, the discoverer of the tubercle bacillus, and also that of sleeping sickness, and it was owing to his work at the Koch institute that von Behring received twenty-one years ago his professorship at Marburg. His retirement is due to broken health.

Local Deaths

Mark Hays.

Mark Hays, who has been conducting a livery and boarding stable at 211 South Seventh street, and who lived at 317 North Eleventh street, died rather suddenly at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning at his residence as the result of an attack of acute indigestion.

Mr. Hays was up as usual on Monday, but was taken sick at about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. He did not think very much about the matter at first, but grew worse, and went home, the best medical attention, dying at the time indicated. He was a strong man and apparently quite healthy, so that his death came as a great shock to his family and friends.

Mr. Hays is survived by his wife and son, the latter 15 years old. His mother lives in Ennis and he has several brothers and one sister, as follows: Harry J. Hays, Lufkin; Joe Hays, Dallas; Linder H. Hays, Cleburne; Mrs. C. M. Winkler, Ennis. Decedent came to Waco about seven years ago from Valley Mills, and has made a lot of friends in this city.

The funeral will take place from the residence this afternoon at 5 o'clock, interment at Park Lawn cemetery. Rev. J. J. Grier, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, officiating.

The Fourth at Marlin.

Marlin, July 4.—The Fourth of July was observed in this city more generally this year than has been the case in several years, all the larger places closing for the day. There was no set observance of the day in Marlin, but large numbers of people left early to attend picnics and amusements in various sections of the county.

THE FOURTH IN WACO.

Waco gave a creditable demonstration on yesterday of the spirit of nationalism which abides here. "America first" was voiced and illustrated in many ways. From almost every house-top and window in the business district fluttered the nation's flag.

The events of the last two years, at home and abroad, have everywhere revived the national spirit. The value of our institutions is generally recognized as it never was before. Imperfect, as all things human are, our government stands before the world today as the one spot in the universe where the welfare of the citizen is the chief concern of government.

The American who does not reverence his country and its flag above all other things of an earthly nature needs to be retaught his nation's history and its service to the cause of humanity.

A German correspondent describing the English drive says, "it came as a relief to the German troops from an almost unbearable strain when the bombardment ceased and strong columns advanced. Along the second sector from La Boisselle to the Somme the first line trenches were so demolished that they offered no support for their hard-pressed occupants and retirement was decided upon." It thus appears that the question whether the drive can continue is merely a question whether the English ammunition will hold out. Big guns rule the day. Congress should take notice and see to it that no guns shall be manufactured which can shoot further or carry a bigger bullet than those of Uncle Sam.

Colonel Baker's proposal that a big pool shall be maintained in the Brazos fronting Waco, through the operation of the locks and dams already built, is an excellent suggestion, and our commercial bodies should get behind it. The Brazos property dressed is a minor Mississippi, and it should be held to that attitude.

Carranza now wants to mediate. When the A. B. C. powers proposed to mediate between him and other revolutionary leaders, he contemptuously declined. After an abundant experience, we are justified in concluding that what he really wants is not mediation but procrastination.

Germany threatens a new form of submarine war. In which event, candidate Hughes has another chance to go to the country with one of his side-swipes intended to round-up one element without antagonizing another.

Waco is the patriotic center of Texas, as was abundantly proved on yesterday.

DAILY SHORT STORY.

THE LANDLORD.

By LOUISE OLIVER.

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

When moving time came it was unfortunate for Cornelia that both her parents had to be away. Business had taken one, illness the other, and even Ben, her college brother, couldn't make his spring vacation coincide with moving time.

So with black Judas and his wife, Violet, she had managed to get china, rugs and furniture into shape for transportation across the city to the new bungalow in the hillside above the river. After all it was Cornelia's own idea, the bit of country and the roomy, spread-out place with wide verandas and fruit trees, so different from the high, narrow city house, the counterpart of thousands on streets exactly alike except for the names.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson had taken root, so to speak, in the brick and cement city and it had taken many months of persuasion for Cornelia to convince them that view and fresh air and individuality would compensate for inconvenience in getting to town and that the reduced expense of living would in time enable them to buy a motor car.

For days Cornelia had scoured agencies and scanned lists, waded through mud and lost her way, ruined clothes and caught colds, and altogether it had been a most disheartening process. But her courage remained unshaken and her will at last found a way, for one day she came across what she wanted—exactly. A bungalow on a hillside with a superb view of the river. This was no mere house, it was explained to her at the office, the owner having built it for himself, but he was an Englishman and had gone to war and was now somewhere in the trenches in France.

Moving day came. Cornelia rose at six and after a hurried breakfast took the car to her future home. It was a wonderful morning, cool and brisk, and even the bare streets of the city had found bits of clover and grass were making green patches in every available inch of ground, dead looking branches were being rapidly covered with yellowish green buds, and behind several iron fences brave patches of tulips and jonquils blossomed. As the car sped on and the distances between houses widened, nature showed her handiwork in gardens of wonderful shrubs and spring flowers.

"It's just like getting out of jail!" thought Cornelia, watching a fat robin on a lawn tug at a worm. "I am so glad all the tramping and hard work to be able to live in the country. I can hardly believe it is true."

The conductor began to call stations instead of streets. At one of these Cornelia got off and made her way along the road toward the haven on the hill that was to be her home.

She mounted the steps of the terrace and took out her key. As she unlocked the door a powerful motor caught her ear. Down the road were coming two immense trucks loaded with furniture.

"Some one else moving out this way," she commented and inserted her key in the lock. The sound reached her and she looked around. The trucks had stopped in front of the bungalow.

"I don't see how they could get here so quickly!" Her brows drew together. "Mr. O'Hagan said it would be an hour. Then around the corner of the house I saw a man who called, 'Hello, Dorgan! Come on and help me get a door open. I forgot to get the keys!' Then, seeing Cornelia with her key in the lock, he hurried up the steps. 'Good morning!' he said. 'I'm glad to see you. But the arrangement was made by phone and I never thought of them. But it was kind of you to bring them. Thank you very much.'"

"I don't quite understand," said Cornelia. "I rented this house a week ago and we are moving in this morning. There seems to be some mistake. McAlpin & Co. are the agents, and if you are not convinced you can call them and ask about it."

BROOKS OR COLQUITT.

Judge Riddle withdraws from the senatorial race in an address to the democrats of Texas that is surcharged with the spirit of earnest patriotism. He declares that the saloon is not worth anything to anybody, and recognizes that by remaining in the race, he might jeopardize the cause which is pledged to oppose it all along the line.

The announcement by Judge Riddle that he will support the candidacy of Dr. Brooks will add materially to its strength. Judge Riddle has made a vigorous canvass, which has been characterized by dignity, force and sincerity. He has made a strong appeal to the virtue and intelligence of the state, and his friends and supporters are found in every community. He is on the right side of public questions; the side which stands for progress, and cleanliness, and justice; he is in the very prime of life; the state has need for men of his type and his capacity for public service.

The campaign has now progressed far enough to determine with reasonable accuracy how it stands. The major part of Judge Riddle's support will go to Dr. Brooks. Already it was apparent that the race was between him and whoever should prove to be the leader on the other side. The News has no commission to pick that leader. Conditions have made him, and his name is O. B. Colquitt. An effort has been made by leading anti to pull him out of the race, but he has refused to withdraw. He has the support of all of the opponents of the national administration and the support of many of the anti but this will not be enough.

There is enough money on hand in Texas right now, if put in active circulation, to convert every nook and corner into a busy hive of industry. And the movement has started to put it in circulation.

Judge Riddle eliminates himself in order to promote the cause nearest his heart. That's the kind of elimination that works, and that nobody can say aught against.

This country raises chickens and eggs worth $6,000,000 every year, not counting the bad eggs. The domestic hen is doing her part towards preparedness.

Drain Amsterdam Lake.

Amsterdam, Netherlands, July 4.—The draining of the inland lake of 35,000 acres formed north of Amsterdam by the disastrous floods of January last has been completed, save for one or two of the deeper "polders" or basins in the area in question, which are to be free of the invading waters by the end of the present month. The construction and installation of the giant pumping plant on the restored Zuyder Zee dikes was carried out in four weeks, and the actual pumping took another four, so that the problem of removing something like 200,000,000 cubic meters of water was dealt with in a matter of two months only. So far as Dutch engineers are aware, this is an unequalled feat in any other country in the world. The advance made by modern hydraulic engineering may be gathered from the fact that after the floods of February, 1925, the draining took until July, 1925, lasting thus a period of seventeen months.

LEAGUE WILL FURNISH AUTOS FOR THE SOLDIERS AND GIVE POST CARDS.

Good Roads Committee Asks for Better Connecting Roads—Post-Pione Survey.

The Young Men's Business League took a decided stand for putting Waco to the front as the City Patriotic last night. Measures were taken to entertain the soldiers who pass through the city, to give them assortments of post card views of Waco and to make Waco a city of Stars and Stripes.

W. V. Crawford made a motion, which carried unanimously, to the effect that the league would give its endorsement to the previous action in behalf of permanent display of flags—to insist that flags up at present remain flying, that others be added and that broken ones be replaced.

To secure automobiles sufficient to meet the trains and give at least some of the officers and soldiers rides over the city during their stop here, the following committee was appointed: W. T. Wheeler, T. H. Williams and W. Woodson. This committee will get a line on the schedule of trains and have autos waiting for a spin. The committee to secure post card views of the prominent places of the city to be placed in an envelope for every soldier is composed of the following: W. V. Crawford, John P. Wright and J. W. Carlin. Cards will be secured in sufficient numbers to give each soldier a packet. This work will begin immediately.

Looking toward the arrangement for a special train of Wacoans to the Mart fair, July 12, on Waco Day, the trade trip committee of the league, headed by Mr. Crawford as chairman, was delegated to this task.

R. E. L. Montgomery and John P. Wright, reporting on the last excursion to Tyler, declared that the schedule for the number of stops and the amount of time at each place was an exceptional one. They made the announcement that they would be pleased to refund half of the league meal ticket to any one making the trip who was dissatisfied with the evening meal.

Forrest E. Goodman and W. A. Poage, speaking for the committee on good roads, expressed the hope that better connecting roads would be built in the near future between the good roads of McLennan county and neighboring counties. The need of better connections between the city pavements and the country pikes was also stressed.

W. H. Woytek and Method Paddal of West were named for a conference to be held with W. C. Crawford and W. A. Poage, R. E. L. Montgomery and R. B. Dupree relative to the establishment of a grand lodge of the Bohemian fraternity in this city.

An invitation was wired the Texas Letter Carriers, now in session at Austin, to hold their next meeting in Waco. The telegram was sent by President Perry Duncan.

Dr. De Hass of the University of Texas, who was scheduled to have conducted the proposed hydrographic engineering survey of the state for the summer and the survey will be postponed to next fall, it was announced last night.

Little Old Want Ad Brings Back Purse and Two Dollars

Do people read Morning News want ads? They certainly do.

For instance, a certain Waco lady carried a little notice in yesterday's Morning News that a purse had been lost. It contained $2 in money and other valuables. At 8 o'clock yesterday morning the finder of her purse had returned it.

"I saw your notice in the Morning News," he said.

With a little more tolerance, I will not be so hasty retreat and take my cook stove and rocking chairs along with me.

Cornelia, completely mollified, held out the key. "Under the circumstances we have no more right to the house than you. I can't possibly move our furniture into it knowing that I am leaving an American and a gentleman out in the cold without any home."

They laughed and wouldn't exactly be leaving me without a home. I really was only going to use the place as a sort of storage house for my things for the time being—not a home, you see, at least for some time to come. Moreover, the world isn't cold—not now. I thought it was a little dreary and chilly this morning, but things have brightened wonderfully. Besides, I'm not altogether an American, gentleman. I'm English. I can't soldier just now. "Then you then this is your house. You are my landlady!"

"Don't call me that, please—it sounds so unfriendly."

"But the house is yours! They told me all about you at the office!"

"True enough! But that hasn't anything to do with the case. I'm home on sick leave. I'm going back soon. All I'd like to do is to make have of other people's plans. So I'm better out of the way."

Cornelia was silent a minute. Then, "There's an immense attic! Would that be of any use?"

"I caught her meaning. 'That's a bully idea! Don't you need it—the garage, I mean?'"

"No, indeed! We'd be glad to have you use it!"

"Thanks awfully. Then it's settled. I'll tell Dorgan he can put the things in. I must be off on the one o'clock train and I've some business to attend to before I leave."

Cornelia was silent. Try as she would, she could think of nothing to say in parting. But the soldier went on. "Will you come to the end of the veranda with me where there is a better view of the river?"

She went with him. A soldier in active service cannot afford to lose a minute. Don't think me abrupt, if you can help it, but try to understand that after the next few minutes I may never see you again. And you'd hope for me to come back. Is it a hopeless wish?"

Cornelia did not stop to understand his panic in her heart as she answered him slowly.

"No—I do hope very much that you will come home—safe and sound. I shall be very, very glad to see you."

He caught her hand suddenly in his. "Dear, girl, he said earnestly, 'I'll come!'"

J. W. CARLIN GREATLY PLEASED AT MEETING OF NATIONAL AD MEN

J. W. Carlin, advertising manager for the Goldstein-Migel company, returned to Waco yesterday, having attended the world convention of advertising men in Philadelphia last week. Mr. Carlin, who has been attending the ad men's conventions for nearly ten years past, declared the 1916 convention to be the largest and most successful ever held. It was attended by advertising men from every part of the union and from several foreign countries. The speakers were men of national prominence in various lines of advertising, and in Mr. Carlin's opinion the convention was exceedingly beneficial to every one who attended it.

"To meet with all these men, each interested in elevating the profession of advertising and making it more efficient," said Mr. Carlin today, "gives a man a higher regard for the business of advertising, and sends him home filled with a fresh interest in his work."

The subject which received particular attention was the percentage of sales which should be spent for advertising by a department store. The table of percentages presented by the speaker who handled this subject will be used by hundreds of stores all over the country to guide them in their advertising expenditures during the coming year. And of particular interest to Waco people in this connection is the fact that this table of percentages was made up from twenty-one representative stores, one of which was the Goldstein-Migel company of Waco. As advertising manager for Goldstein-Migel, I naturally feel quite proud of the fact that our store is one of the twenty-one in the entire United States whose advertising schedules will furnish the national standard for the coming year. "Loyal" entertainment was provided for the convention visitors by the hospitable Philadelphians, and if anyone didn't have the time of his life, it was his own fault."

Mr. Carlin expressed himself as being glad to be back in Waco, where he will immediately take up the advertising of the big July Clearance Sale at the G.-M. store. The great annual selling event now in its second week, is scoring a pronounced success, keeping all departments of the big Austin street store busy every day.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS.

The city was given over to patriotism yesterday afternoon, and most all places of business were closed. Waco is intensely patriotic, and shows this whenever occasion is given.

The picnics yesterday at Bruceville and Spangville are reported by those who attended to have been very successful ones. The attendance was large, considering the fact that farmers are quite busy now.

The Boy Scout band played for the Bruceville picnic yesterday, and have engagements for the Mart fair and the picnic at Oakwood. The organization is getting to be quite well known and is enjoying a fine reputation.

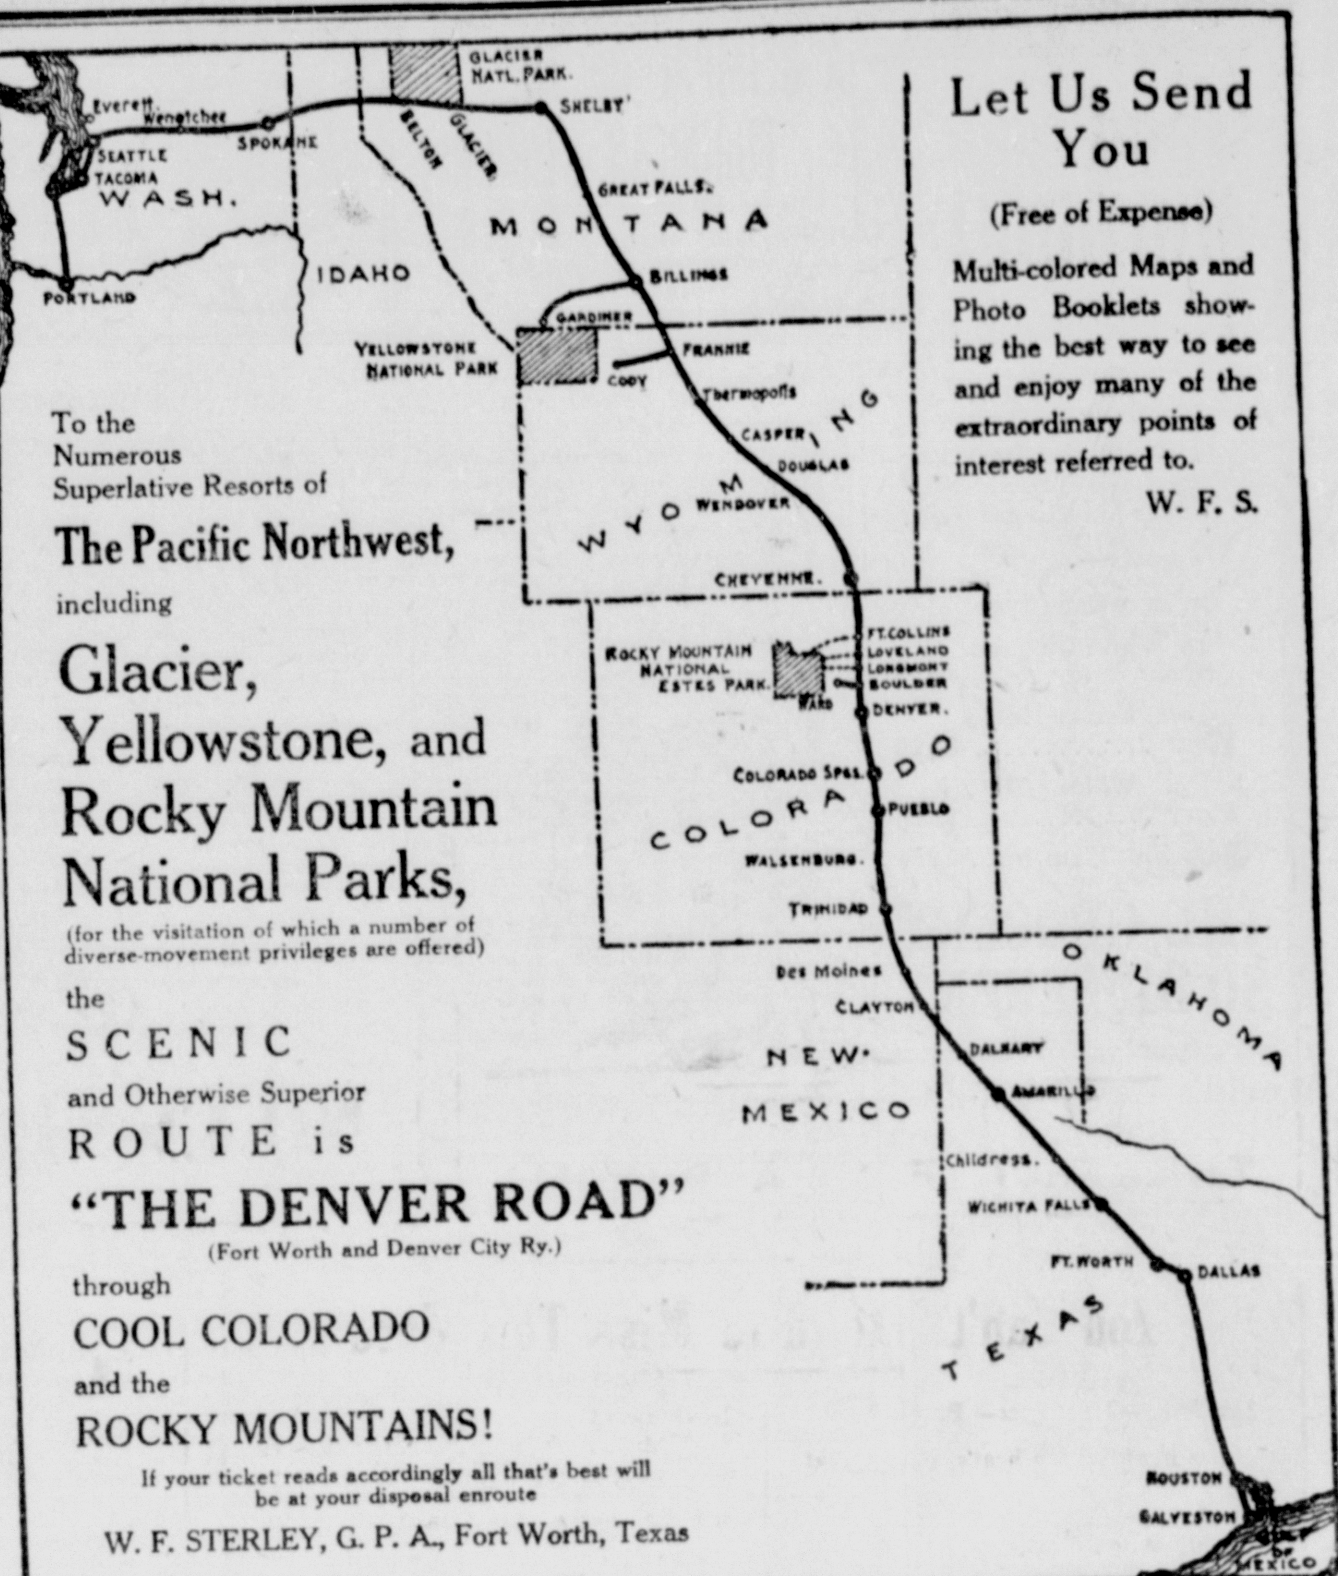

The funeral of Richard O. Reed took place yesterday morning from the chapel of the L. C. Puckett Undertaking company, interment at Oakwood cemetery. Rev. John G. Kendall officiated at the cemetery. The flowers were beautiful and in great profusion.

Tomorrow night Hon. Thomas Mitchell Campbell will speak in Waco, and his friends are working up interest among the voters and trying to get them out. The various candidates only have a short time now in which

CALL WACO DOCTOR FOR ARMY SERVICE

Dr. Doyle L. Eastland, who is surgeon in charge at the government lock and dam below Waco, has received a telegram from the department of the surgeon-general in Washington, D. C., instructing him to report for active duty at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, immediately.

Dr. Eastland will be assigned to service in the medical corps of the United States, this meaning that he will be transferred from the reserve corps to the regular army, and doubtless means promotion at once. Dr. Eastland, who is president of the McLennan County Medical society, is highly regarded in Waco, both personally and professionally.

Dr. Eastland has been in charge of medical work at the lock and dam since December, 1912, and he was made first lieutenant in the medical reserve corps last January, the appointment coming from President Wilson.

To reach the people, and all of them are busy.

The lock and dam below Waco are being thoroughly tested out at present, and announcements will be made at an early date of the time when the water will be backed up towards Waco in full force. This is expected at a very early date.

A few committees have been appointed in connection with Labor Day already, and others will be named a little later. It is proposed to make the celebration this year one of the most impressive held in some time. Arrangements will gradually be made from this time on until the observance of Labor Day in September.

Prof. Behring Resigns.

Berlin, July 4.—It is announced that Prof. Von Behring, famous throughout the world as discoverer of the diphtheria serum, has resigned his position at the University of Marburg and from the directorship of the Institute of Experimental Therapy, which was founded especially to give him an opportunity to carry on his scientific investigations. It was in this institution that he discovered and worked out several years ago a serum against tetanus or lockjaw, which, during the present war, has enabled the German medical staff to combat that dreaded disease with complete success. He did much of his early work as the assistant of Prof. Robert Koch, the discoverer of the tubercle bacillus, and also that of sleeping sickness, and it was owing to his work at the Koch institute that von Behring obtained twenty-one years ago his professorship at Marburg. His retirement is due to broken health.

Local Deaths

Mark Hays.

Mark Hays, who has been conducting a livery and boarding stable at 211 South Seventh street, and who lived at 217 North Eleventh street, died rather suddenly at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning at his residence as the result of an attack of acute indigestion.

Mr. Hays was up as usual on Monday, but was taken sick at about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. He did not think very much about the matter at first, but grew worse, and went home. He grew gradually worse, in spite of the best medical attention, dying at the time indicated. He was a strong man and apparently quite healthy, so that his death came as a great shock to his family and friends.

Mr. Hays is survived by his wife and son, the latter 15 years old. His mother lives in Ennis and he has several brothers and one sister, as follows: Terry and Henry Hays, Waco; Dallas; Linde H. Hays, Cleburne; Mrs. C. M. Winkler, Ennis. Decedent came to Waco about seven years ago from Valley Mills, and has made a lot of friends in this city.

The funeral will take place from the residence this afternoon at 5 o'clock, interment at Park Lawn cemetery, Rev. J. J. Grier, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, officiating.

The Fourth at Marlin.

Marlin, July 4.—The Fourth of July was observed in this city more generally this year than has been the case in several years, all the larger business houses and most of the smaller places closing for the day. There was no set observance of the day in Marlin, but large numbers of people left early to attend picnics and amusement events in various sections of the country.

Something About Border West of the Rio Grande

Washington, July 4.—That part of the United States-Mexican boundary line extending from El Paso, Texas, to the Pacific coast is described in the following geographic bulletin of the National Geographic society, issued from Washington:

"After leaving the Rio Grande, the natural boundary, and striking due west from El Paso for 100 miles, the international boundary line between the United States and Mexico changes direction five times before reaching the Pacific coast. As if it had struck an insurmountable obstacle in the Big Hatchet mountains, it turns at right angles, and extends to the south for thirty miles, then strikes west again for a distance of more than 160 miles to a point beyond Nogales. Forming an obtuse angle, the line now runs in a northwesterly direction for its longest 'leg,' more than 230 miles, until it reaches the Colorado river, which forms the boundary for twenty miles from southwest to northeast. At Yuma, near the junction of the Gila river with the Colorado, the line takes its final change of direction, toward the west, terminating in the Pacific, 140 miles distant.

"This boundary is marked by 258 monuments, more than 200 of which are of cast iron weighing 800 pounds. They are six feet tall, and set in concrete. The expense of their erection, borne jointly by Mexico and the United States, averaged $150 each.

"With the exception of Bisbee, Santa Cruz, Yuma and San Diego, there are few settlements of any size within a twenty-mile zone on each side of the boundary, embracing an area of 24,000 square miles.

"Although the boundary was chosen arbitrarily, when the work was surveyed it was found that the line between the Colorado and the Rio Grande followed almost exactly the summit of the divide separating the United States from those flowing south into Mexico.

"The highest point on the line is at the summit of the San Jacinto range, a part of the continental divide. The elevation is 6,000 feet, which is nearly 2,000 feet above El Paso. It is in this high altitude that quantities of game are to be found, making it one of the most interesting sections of the line. Here antelope, deer, bear and wild turkeys are plentiful, and the acorns from the evergreen oaks of the picturesque valleys attract great flocks of wild pigeons. Many years ago there were a few straggling settlements in this region, but they were abandoned during the raids of the ruthless Apache chief, Geronimo.

"One of the most considerable towns along the border is Bisbee, Arizona, with a population of 9,000. It is situated in the Mule mountains, ten miles from the border. Tombstone, which is twenty miles northwest of Bisbee, was once one of the great mining camps of the world.

"In a valley to the west of the Babiqueri mountains, also called the Pono Verde mountains, 200 miles east of the Colorado river, the traveler sometimes is so fortunate as to encounter a sandstorm which in severity rivals the torrid tempests of the Sahara desert. In their report to the United States government the international (Mexican) boundary commission, which made the final survey of the line and erected the monuments which now mark the border, described such a storm, saying: 'In this valley on July 3, was encountered a sandstorm of frightful violence. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon a dense, dark, brown cloud was seen rising in the south, which presented a singularly threatening appearance. The sun, which until then had been shining brightly, was soon overcast, and in a few moments after the cloud was first noticed the storm burst in all its fury, filling the canyon to a height of several hundred feet with the loose soil of the valley. In ten or fifteen minutes after the storm burst it became as black as midnight. Respiration was almost impossible and it was only by breathing through a handkerchief held in front of the mouth that suffocation was avoided. In about half an hour the wind began to subside and the darkness to diminish, and finally, in a little over two hours after the storm commenced the setting sun shone faintly through the particles of dust which still filled the air.'"

Columbus, N. M., July 3.—Troops of the New Mexico National Guard have been ordered rushed to the Elephant Butte dam, 135 miles northeast of Columbus. The dam is the second largest artificial body of water in the world and irrigates a valley for 150 miles to the south.

THE OLD SCHOOL SLATE.

Shortage of Paper May Revive Its Use, Both Here and Abroad.

(New York World.)

There are men of place and power to whom mention of the fact that the paper shortage has revived the use of the slate by British children will bring back instant memories of the Little Red Schoolhouse.

In the United States, as in England, there must be schools where the slate has never yielded. In the telephone-tapping cases the police are said to have taken down upon slates the conversations to which they "listened in"—a preference that speaks of classroom habit. But not for our cities is such conservatism.

"In deference to medical opinion," says the Manchester Guardian, "school slates in England are now cleaned by antiseptic methods." What methods? In ruder days one spat upon the slate and polished it with an accustomed sleeve; some of the big girls may have kept a sponge for the purpose. So when sanitation was invented the slate was taboo, along with the water pail and its one tin cup for all to drink from.

Something besides economy might speak for the slate. It does not glare. It is easier to read from than the scraps of tin from John D.'s oil cases that Moslem boys use in mosque schools. The squeaky pencil that of old insured its owner a punishment would cause no remark now that punishment for real offenses is no more permitted.

Dug from inexhaustible stores, the slate in school would help save the vanishing forest; why have not conservationists formed societies for the encouragement of its use? But its divinest attribute is mercy. The written word remains, says the law maxim? Not if you use the slate, whose generous nature knows no recollection of a thousand blunders!

To Export Live Fish.

(Cid Bits.)

The feat of freezing live fish and reviving them several weeks or months later has been achieved by the Swiss scientist, M. Picot. The scientist put twenty-eight live fish in a box that contained water rich in oxygen, in which several pieces of ice floated. The temperature of the water was then reduced slowly until it froze. At the end of about two months the cake was gradually thawed, and the fish, it is said, were found alive.

In such an experiment, the scientist reports, it is essential that the water be gradually frozen, and that it shall have contained pieces of ice for from fifteen to eighteen hours before the whole mass is frozen. The process of thawing must also be slow.

Through this process it is believed that Siberian sturgeon and Alaskan salmon can be exported alive to distant markets.

NEW PHOTO OF PRESIDENT AND WIFE

This new photo of President and Mrs. Wilson was taken in Washington a few days ago when they attended the memorial services in honor of the late president of China, Yuan Shi Kai.

Business Conditions in Peking Very Unstable

Peking, July 4.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—China has been most stirred by the action of the government on May 12, in suspending specie payment on the notes of the Bank of China and the Bank of Communications, the two government institutions having branches throughout the principal cities of China.

Recently there was a great rush to withdraw funds from these banks because of charges made by the enemies of the government that the late Yuan Shi Kai administration was utilizing the bank's funds to maintain itself. Furthermore, the recent high price of silver has caused much speculation in the white metal, and resulted in its transfer and exportation.

Tien Tsin has been a great center for politicians out of sympathy with the present government, and it was there that the rush to withdraw funds from the Bank of Communications first began on a large scale. It soon became apparent that the limited reserves would not stand the drain, and Premier Tuen Chi Jui and his cabinet declared a limited moratorium. The moratorium does not extend to individuals, but merely to the financial affairs of the government. It provides that the government banks shall not redeem their notes in hard money, and shall not permit the depositors to withdraw their funds from the banks.

With the suspension of specie payment on the notes of the two banks, business in Peking came to a sudden halt.

The cabinet mandate provided that all persons must accept the notes of the two banks at their face value or undergo severe punishment. Soldiers and policemen have been stationed in the various parts of the city to enforce this order in shops.

Nevertheless, merchants have found means of evading the order. Nearly all prices in the city have been raised, and when merchants feel that payment will be made in Chinese bank notes, they frequently advance their prices to a point that is prohibitive in order to avoid sales.

Peking is, in fact, threatened with famine as a result of the partial moratorium, for farmers and produce dealers will not bring their products to

CALOMEL IS MERCURY, IT SICKENS! CLEAN LIVER AND BOWELS GENTLY

Don't lose a day's work! If your liver is sluggish or bowels constipated take "Dodson's Liver Tone."

You're bilious! Your liver is sluggish! You feel lazy, dizzy and all knocked out. Your head is dull, your tongue is coated; breath bad; stomach sour and bowels constipated. But don't take salivating calomel. It makes you sick, you may lose a day's work. Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bile lines, dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick. Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and your bowels regular. You will feel like working; you'll be cheerful; full of vigor and ambition. Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and can not salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel is almost stopped entirely here.

Notes of the two government financial institutions.

Grains and all sorts of vegetables are getting very scarce, and the Chinese chamber of commerce and local grain merchants have petitioned the government urging it to devise means to relieve the situation. There is a plan on foot to establish official granaries and depots in which all sorts of foodstuffs will be handled by the government for sale at normal prices. All sorts of foodstuffs have advanced in price from 20 to 100 per cent.

One of the worst features of the limited moratorium is the criticism directed at foreigners by the vernacular press. Many of the Chinese newspapers are declaring that foreigners have bought up all the silver and gold in China and are responsible for the depreciation of the notes of the Bank of China and the Bank of Communications. Posters making this announcement have been pasted on many of the dead walls in Peking, and Chinese papers are encouraging the populace in this belief. Foreigners are already beginning to feel the unfriendly attitude of the masses, who have accepted the statements of unreliable papers and are quite willing to believe that Europeans, rather than Chinese officials, are responsible for the present financial conditions in China.

Coolies, hucksters and small merchants, whose business has been almost entirely ruined by the moratorium, are becoming especially curt in their treatment of foreigners. The newspapers are discussing the organization of a clearing house in Peking for foreign and Chinese merchants to Foresaw Intervention.

(Kansas City Star.) The Baltimore Clipper on Monday morning, January 25, 1858, said of Mexico in part:

The various factions, parties and insurrectionary movements which exist and are constantly transpiring in Mexico indicate very distinctly that Mexico is rapidly relapsing to the state of semi-barbarism that marked the era of its conquest by Cortes and his companions, and that no stable government can be formed by the present inhabitants of the country. In fact, the people are incompetent to govern themselves, and will not submit to any ruler chosen by popular vote.

From all appearances we are of the opinion that Comonfort will be overthrown, and we think that the popular sentiment at present is in favor of the restoration of Santa Anna to supreme power. He has tried the experiment before and failed—and such will be the result of another trial. The materials for a regular and permanent government do not exist, and Mexico must continue in anarchy until the annexation of the whole country to the United States shall become an evident necessity.

SKIPPERS CAN'T HANDLE SHOTS AND CURVES OF LOUIS TRETTER.

ERRORS LOSE ALL CHANCES

Second Game Called at End of Fifth to Allow Teams to Catch Train. Breaks Against Us.

Fort Worth, July 4.—Otto Melver broke into his new duties, both as manager and first baseman, for the Panthers and literally smothered the Waco Navigators in the first game of the Fourth of July double header and Fort Worth won, 5 to 0. Louis Tretter pitched great ball, and with the sensational support accorded him, made the affair a walk-away.

Fritz Redford pitched indifferent ball in the one and two-thirds innings he pitched in the second game of the double-header, and allowed Waco to tie it up, and although Harrah was given a lead, he was unable to win it, and it ended a 5 to 5 tie, going but five innings. It was agreed to stop play at 6:30 to allow the clubs to catch trains.

The Navigators played rather loose baseball, and all the breaks went against them. Waco made costly errors which lost them the chance to win. They were ahead in the third, but Casey threw wild to first to catch Manda off base and he took third. In the fourth inning he scored on Melver's out.

Fort Worth's new outfielder, Bogano, failed to appear and pitchers were used in the outfield. The score: FIRST GAME.

STEVE O'NEIL BIG HELP TO THE INDIANS IN RACE FOR PENNANT

Cleveland, July 4.—Steve O'Neil, Indian catcher, has failed to take part in but one or two games this season and has had lots to do with the pace the team has shown this season. Every one knows that a steady and reliable catcher is one of the most important requisites of a winning team, and O'Neil has been all of this and more for the Indians.

Steve comes from a baseball family, but the big part of his success may be attributed to his willingness to work hard all the time. From the time he was a breaker-boy in a Pennsylvania mine Steve was determined to become a first-class big league catcher and he's done so by never giving up.

Steve had two older brothers who were well known in baseball circles some years ago. John and Mike O'Neil were twins and made up a battery, Mike doing the pitching. They played with the St. Louis Nationals fourteen seasons ago and were very popular for some time, but neither supposed that their little brother, Steve, would grow up to have them both outclassed.

Connie Mack tried out Steve at one time, but didn't seem to see his possibilities; then O'Neil came to Cleveland. He's been here making good since 1912. His value to the team has been shown especially this season, and he has worked every day to keep the team at its best fighting strength, knowing that if he'd ease up or lay down it might mean a disorganization of the whole team.

Three Skippers hit for 300 or above while on the road trip, and at Cleveland on June 12 and ended in Fort Worth yesterday. The trio that swatted in the select circle are Bittle, with the phenomenal average of .496 for the nineteen games, Malmquist, who went clean bat crazy and hit for .382, and consistent Jesse James with an even .390.

The averages of other members of the team follow: Relly, .268, Conwell .241, Kuhn .237, Grubb .227, Coyne .225, Wohlleben .214, Causer .256, Donalds .142, Sage .091, Hill .071, Zinn and Wright .069. The team as a whole batted .264, being at bat 411 times, made 161 hits and scored 79 runs. This mark shows a very high offensive strength when it is remembered that the pitchers' averages are included.

Bittle, with fourteen runs, grabbed the honors in that line, closely followed by James with 10, Wohlleben 9, Malmquist and Tanner with eight apiece. The classy little left-fielder and Tanner tied in stolen bases, each garnering four sacks by the theft route, while Malmquist got three.

In all fifteen bases were stolen on the journey abroad. Mickey Coyle far eclipsed his team mates in the matter of sacrifice hits, laying nine of 'em down safely. Outside of the center-fielder's contribution, only six others were made, thereby causing a total of sixteen for the club.

Extra-base hits were plentiful, and contributed in a large measure to the eight victories. Two home runs, seven triples and five doubles accounted for 27 bases and with the 116 singles dropped in incidentally, made a grand total of 266 bases for the long jaunt.

The strong Central Texas National bank team was defeated by Riesel yesterday at the latter place by a score of 9 to 2. PANTHERS 5-5 WACO - 0-5

SKIPPERS CAN'T HANDLE SHOTS AND CURVES OF LOUIS TRETTER.

ERRORS LOSE ALL CHANCES

Second Game Called at End of Fifth to Allow Teams to Catch Train. Breaks Against Us.

Fort Worth, July 4.—Otto McVey broke into his new duties, both as manager and first baseman, for the Panthers and literally smothered the Waco Navigators in the first game of the Fourth of July double header and Fort Worth won, 5 to 0. Louis Tretter pitched great ball, and with the sensational support accorded him, made the affair a walk-away.

Fritz Redford pitched indifferent ball in the one and two-thirds innings he pitched in the second game of the double-header, and allowed Waco to tie it up, and although Harrah was given a lead, he was unable to win it, and it ended a 5 to 5 tie, going but five innings. It was agreed to stop play at 6:30 to allow the clubs to catch trains.

The Navigators played rather loose baseball, and all the breaks went against them. Sage was hit hard in the first game, and with Tretter pitching great ball, and being accorded support that was sensational, Waco had no chance except in the fourth, when a great double play engineered by McVey prevented a run in spite of two doubles and a single.

In the second game both Causey for Waco, and Redford for Fort Worth, were hit hard. Waco made costly errors which lost them the chance to win. They were ahead in the third, but Causey threw wild to first to catch Manda off base and he took third. In the fourth inning he scored on McVey's out.

Fort Worth's new outfielder, Boggs, failed to appear and pitchers were used in the outfield. The score:

Bittle and Malmquist Swat the Ball Hard on Road

Three Skippers hit for 300 or above while on the road trip that began at Beaumont on June 19 and ended in Fort Worth yesterday. The trio that swatted in the select circle were Bittle, with the phenomenal average of .400 for the nineteen games, Malmquist, who went clean bat crazy and hit for .352, and consistent Jesse James with an even .300.

The averages of other members of the team follow: Reilly, .268, Conwell .241, Kuhn, .247, Grubb, .237, Coyle, .226, Wohlleben .214, Causey .250, Donalds .142, Sage .091, Hill .071, Zinn and Wright .060. The team as a whole batted .264, being at bat 411 times, made 161 hits and scored 79 runs. This mark shows a very high offensive strength when it is remembered that the pitchers' averages are included.

Bittle, with fourteen runs, grabbed the honors in that line, closely followed by James with 10. Wohlleben, Malmquist and Tanner with eight apiece. The chummy little left-fielder and Tanner tied in stolen bases, each garnering one sack by the theft route, while Malmquist got Extra-base hits were plentiful, and contributed in a large measure to the eight victories. Two home runs, seven triples and twenty-five doubles amounted to 79 bases and with the 116 singles dropped in incidentally, made a grand total of 206 bases for the long jaunt. Jesse James as usual started in long-distance hitting, but not by himself. Malmquist cracked out two triples and five doubles for sixteen bases, while James' come run, two triples and three doubles netted him the same total. Reilly, Tanner and Bittle follow with 12, 10 and 5 bases respectively for their long swats.

One particular feature of the trip was that no pitcher negotiated the bases for a score. Also, no sacrifice flies were raised to score pleading runners from third.

ZINN TO VISIT FAMOUS DOCTOR

Jimmie Zinn has made the big decision. With a husky right arm hanging useless by his side and the team badly crippled without his services on the mound, Jimmie has decided to make a trip to the famous Bonsetter Reese in Youngstown, Ohio, in the hope that the wizard mender of stubborn muscles, bones and cords may be able to coax the recalcitrant ligament in his shoulder back to its rightful resting place.

Zinn sustained the sprain during the first part of the road trip and was forced to return home. He expected that a few days' rest would prove all the treatment necessary to get the injured member straightened out. Local treatment by an osteopath failed to produce the desired results, however, the shoulder proving obdurate to all remedies and applications. Therefore the big fellow was ready to listen to those who advised him to visit the world-renowned doctor in Ohio.

"Yes," said Zinn last night, "I expect to leave some time this week for the north in an effort to get the old sinner repaired for good. I know the team is having hard lines with the staff crippled and the season getting hot, but the quicker I go the sooner I'll be ready to do my share of the work. Watch the way the bunch is fighting now in the face of Old Man Jinx and Tough Breaks. Here's hoping that the Bonsetter'll do a good job so I can be back in a very few weeks."

Cotton Palace Park Races Prove Very Exciting Events; Today's Program at 1:30

Under a hot July sun and with the track in almost perfect condition, some of the finest races ever seen in Waco were staged yesterday afternoon at Cotton Palace park. A new track record was set in the first heat of the free for all race and the half-mile running race was won in the excellent time of 48 1-2 seconds.

Hallie Grace took charge of the first heat in the free for all race early and finished in 2:11 1/4, better time than was made during last fall's Cotton Palace meet, and comparing favorably with the time being made in any of the events over the Great Western circuit where some real purses are offered. Floretta Hawk was second and Colonel Rodgers third.

Again in the second heat, Hallie Grace got off good and was leading at the half, with Floretta Hawk close up and Colonel Rodgers taking the dust. On the back turn, however, the Colonel began to move up and passed the leader in the stretch, winning easily, with Hallie Grace second and Floretta third. Time, 2:14.

But it was in the third heat that the surprise came. There was no showing in the first two legs around. He got off to a good start in the final heat, with Hallie Grace and Colonel Rodgers some distance back. Hallie Grace first challenged and then Colonel Rodgers, but Theresa simply put on a little more speed each time it was needed and won in a driving finish, Colonel Rodgers being second and Hallie Grace third. Floretta Hawk broke badly and was never in the race. Time, 2:11 1/2.

There was nothing to the free for all trot but Lady Togo, Frank S. and Marie Coke both got off to beautiful starts in the first heat, but broke under the strain, and the gallant little mare passed them with no trouble at all. The second and third heats were repetitions of the first. The time for the three heats was 2:20, 2:21, 2:19 1/2.

The big disappointment of the day, from the spectators' standpoint, was the three-quarter mile running race. Waco, the only locally owned horse, was left at the post, Pedro beating Zandia in a pretty two-horse race. The way Waco went around after getting off indicated that he would have been in the running with a good start. It is pretty hard to understand how such a bad start can be allowed in a three-horse race, but Starter Nickles worked with the horses for some time trying to get them off and Waco's rider seemed unable to get his steed up with the others. The official time was 1:14 1/2.

But there were no flaws in the half-mile dash. Young Pansy, Davis and Henry Belton, the three entries, got off to a beautiful start. Davis soon forged into the lead and the others were never able to catch up. It was claimed that the time made, 48 1/2 seconds, was the fastest ever made in Texas. Whether it is or not, it sure was some race.

The weather permitting, four more good races will be run today. The afternoon's races are scheduled to begin at 1:30, so as to be over in time for the ball game.

The program for today:

Besides, Chesterfields are mild! There's a combination you never heard of before—"satisfy," yet mild! It is new to cigarettes!

You can't get this new kind of enjoyment in any cigarette except Chesterfields, because no other cigarette maker can copy the Chesterfield blend!

Cotton Palace Park Races Prove Very Exciting Events; Today's Program at 1:30

Under a hot July sun and with the track in almost perfect condition, some of the finest races ever seen in Waco were staged yesterday afternoon at Cotton Palace park. A new track record was set in the first heat of the free for all race and the half-mile running race was won in the excellent time of 48 1-2 seconds.

Hallie Grace took place of the first heat in the free for all race early and finished in 2:11 1/4, better time than was made during last fall's Cotton Palace meet, and comparing favorably with the time being made in any of the events over the Great Western circuit, where some real purses are offered. Floretta Hawk was second and Colonel Rodgers third.

Again in the second heat, Hallie Grace got off good and was leading at the half, with Floretta Hawk close up and Colonel Rodgers taking the dust. On the back turn, however, the horses began to move up and passed the leaders in the stretch, winning easily, with Hallie Grace second and Floretta Hawk third. Time, 2:14.

But it was in the third heat that the surprise came. There was had not made much of a showing in the first two heats around. He got off to a good start in the final heat, with Hallie Grace and Colonel Rodgers some distance back. Hallie Grace first challenged and then Colonel Rodgers, but Tiberias simply put on a little more speed each time it was needed and won in a driving finish.

The second and third heats were being second and Hallie Grace third. Floretta Hawk broke badly and was never in the race. Time, 2:11 1/4. There was nothing to the first for all trot but Lady Togo, Frank S. and Mamie Cole got off to beautiful starts in the first heat, but broke under the strain, and the gallant little mare passed them with no trouble.

The big disappointment of the day, from the spectators' standpoint, was the three-quarter mile running race. Waco, the only locally owned horse, was left at the post, Pedro beating Zandia in a pretty two-horse race. The way Waco went around after setting off indicated that he would have been in the running with a good start. It is pretty hard to understand how such a bad start can be allowed in a three-horse race, but Starter Nickles worked with the horses for some time trying to get them off, and Waco's rider seemed unable to get his steed up with the others. The official time was 1:14 1/2.

But there were no flaws in the half-mile dash. Young Pansy, Davis and Henry Belton, the three entries, got off to a beautiful start. Davis soon forced into the lead and the others were never able to catch up. It is claimed that the time made, 48 1/2 seconds, was the fastest ever made in Texas. Whether it is or not, it sure was some race.

The weather permitting, four more good races will be pulled off today. This afternoon's races are scheduled to begin at 1:30, so as to be over in time for the ball game.

Next Casino Dance Comes Friday

Dancers were making merry at the Cameron Park Casino last evening when the frolicsome shower made the hundreds of pleasure seekers skurry for home. With the strong appeal that the Casino has been making it was natural that it should have entered so strongly into the plans of the Fourth of July merry-makers. The cheering thing about the shower was that the dance was only interrupted for the evening and many parted with a promise of coming back to Friday's dance.

BIG BOILERS HERE WILL DOUBLE POWER OF ELECTRIC PLANT

The big boilers which are to double the power and consequently the output of electrical energy of the Texas Power & Light company in East Waco have arrived and are being installed. This was a great piece of work, and it was necessary to make some minor changes in the big building in East Waco which houses this costly machinery, but as it was built with the idea of increasing the capacity, the changes were not very material. The work of installing the machinery is well under way.

When the boilers shall have been installed it will increase the power of the plant from 10,000 to 20,000 horsepower, thus doubling it, and many believe, as stated previously, that a part of this added electrical energy will be used in going on south to Austin and San Antonio, with eventually a line to Houston and to other points out of here.

Police Pad Shows Effects of Fourth of July Activity

The police pad shows that the holiday season is an unusually busy one with the department. Chief Detective Hall caught two negroes yesterday charged with stealing two hogs from a negro by the name of Jackson and disposing of them to a local packer. The two packers brought $48. They were taken from a pen on the river near the corral. John Tomlin, wanted in Temple for burglary, was caught here by Detective Hall and was carried back to Bell county by Sheriff Jerry Gray.

Chief of Police Guy McNamara has two catches in the jail of the dusky hue who attempted to get away with six silk skirts from Sanger Brothers, when they were intercepted by the clerks Monday. The clerks detained the negroes until the chief arrived. Charged with the theft of some brass, which includes lamps and wire taken from the rear of the Famous J. W. Donohue is held for trial. He was apprehended by Detective Shepard.

Officer Ludwig, assistant to the county probation officer, made a catch of five drunks yesterday following a Fourth carousal.

City B. Y. P. U. Elects Corps of Officers

The city B. Y. P. U. met last night at the Clay Street Baptist church for its regular monthly meeting. This was the last meeting under the old board of officers, and consisted of a business session only. Reports of the different officers were received and after a review of the B. Y. P. U. situation in Waco by the retiring president, Charles Koller, the election of officers for the ensuing year was held. Mr. Jackson of the Turner Street B. Y. P. U. was elected president; Mrs. Crute Dalton, first vice president; E. H. Crouch, second vice president; Miss Minnie Schiltz, secretary; Miss Minnie Hamblen, corresponding secretary; Mr. Caskey, treasurer; Leslie Rogers, chorister; Mrs. Edna Glascock, pianist; and Charles Koller, press reporter.

The banner for efficiency during the past month was awarded to the Turner street union, which made an unusually good showing. Members were reminded of the Palacios encampment, which begins on the 11th day of July, and which Waco B. Y. P. U. members will visit in a special train.

HIPPODROME THEATER.

"The Dividend."

A play of social criticism with a strong theme. "The Dividend" a five-act Ince-Triangle play written by C. Gardner Sullivan and showing at the Hippodrome today and Thursday, is admirably handled and interpreted with skill. Charles Ray is as usual excellent in the role of the young son whose tendencies are good, but who is actually invited and finally forced by his father's neglect to a life of dissipation that leads to ruin and death. William H. Thompson carries off the honors with his portrayal of the hard old capitalist who judges everything in the world and everybody, and his own son by one standard of valuation, that which affects his property interests. Throughout the characterizations are clearly drawn. Ethel Ullman and Margaret Thompson having the leading feminine parts. One is a factory girl who is forced by inadequate wages to enter the world of sin, and the other is a hardened woman of the underworld who lives on the wealth of the son of the factory owner. The atmosphere is perfectly gained and the theme developed with remarkable finality so that the attention is held tensely riveted to the action from beginning to end. There is all the difference in the world between a picture which deals in a sincerely dramatic way with things of evil and a picture which portrays evil merely for its sensational effect. "The Dividend" belongs to the first class, and its appeal is essentially wholesome.

"The Dividend" is the story of a money-crazed millionaire whose insatiable greed leads him to neglect his son, with the result that the boy slides easily into dissipation and finally becomes an outcast and a dope fiend. It is a strong play with a strong theme, one that will be long remembered by all, and especially fathers, who see it.

The story begins by introducing Peppa (Stuart Holmes) and his sister Gorgone. The death certificate of Hannibal and Claudia Palmieri have fallen into their hands. Arriving at Paris they place a law firm in charge of their fraudulent case. Their last centime has been expended to make the journey, and their wits are taxed to maintain an existence until their claim can be adjusted. Mantell's role, the Count de Briquet,

His wife, the countess, is portrayed by Genevieve Hamper, whose part is that of the wife who sacrifices her all for the good name of her dishonored mother, Madame de la Marche (Louise Riel). When the count and countess return from India to Paris, Peppa and Gorgone have assumed the part of the dead Palmieri. They decide to cultivate the acquaintance of the De Briquets. Gorgone, now as Claudia, decides to ensnare the wealthy count and cause him to turn against his wife. Peppa as Hannibal is to aid her in the plot. The plot and production mark clearly how intrigue may return to harm the conspirators as well as illustrating the needless sufferings they cause. In this complicated mesh the sufferings of the misled countess and the wicked cleverness of Gorgone are acted with unusual force by Mr. Mantell and Miss Hamper.

STRONG INTEREST SHOWN IN WITHDRAWAL OF G. W. RIDDLE

Wacoans See Significance in Riddle Dropping Out Favoring Brooks.

The withdrawal from the race for United States senator of George W. Riddle of Dallas caused a good deal of discussion here yesterday afternoon, and more or less speculation as to the effect it will have on the fortunes of the other candidates, particularly Dr. S. P. Brooks, to whom Mr. Riddle will give his personal support.

The withdrawal also revived talk of elimination in some other races which are at present pretty badly muddled by reason of the conditions which exist. Whether this will result in any real move for elimination in other contests remains to be seen, but it appears doubtful.

The withdrawal is interesting, at any rate, and the general opinion was that the statement of Judge Riddle was a straightforward, manly and creditable one.

him and takes him to her cabin where she nurses him for weeks until he regains his senses. His wife gives him up for dead and returns to the city to take over her uncle's estate. Against his possible return, however, she places a note in a jug explaining her departure and leaves it with the storekeeper. The sculptress purchases a jug, and finds the wife's note. Herself in love with the author, she hides the paper and he believes his wife has deserted him. AMICABLE PROVED PATRIOTIC CENTER OF CITY YESTERDAY

As the first rays of the morning sun gilded the top of the Amicable building, Old Glory was thrown to the breeze from the sixty-foot flag pole, while below at the rear of the building the twenty-one guns of the presidential salute bade Wacoans to awake to the thoughtful celebration of the Birthday of Independence.

Superintendent Wiggins, acting under executive direction of the Amicable, had a corps of men busy most of the night, and the early morning found the building literally covered with 422 American flags. It was a novel sight to the residents of Waco as well as the train loads of United States soldiers who were passing through almost every hour of the day on their way to the border.

One train load of Maryland troops—and they were an unusually fine looking lot of men—arrived for an hour's stop about 7 a. m. As they flocked up Austin street their comments on the progressiveness of Waco were very flattering. They were extended the courtesy of a view of the fertile Brazos valley from the observation tower at the top of the city's modern skyscraper and several hundred of the boys in khaki took advantage of it. It was a most unusual opportunity to extend the fame of Waco over the United States.

At high noon the national salute of forty-eight guns, one for each state in the union, was fired from the same cannon and in the same place as the morning salute. In the evening as the sun sank over the western rim of the beautiful valley, Charles Parker's Scout band patriotically conducted the formal ceremony of lowering the flag from the Amicable's lofty flag pole. First came the "retreat" by the buglers, then the customary salute of one gun followed by the familiar strains of the Star Spangled Banner as all present stood with uncovered heads. As the strains of the national anthem died away the bugle sounded "taps" and the flag fluttered down the staff. It was a fine opportunity for those unfamiliar with the routine of army posts all over the United States to see the ceremony of retreat carried out in all its impressive detail.

The Amicable is to be congratulated upon its progressiveness in bringing more of the spirit of independence home to Waco, and it is to be hoped that another year will see more of the same spirit in evidence.

Letter Carriers and Clerks to Meet Next in Santone

Austin, July 4.—The joint state convention of the Letter Carriers' and Postoffice Clerks' association adjourned this afternoon. San Antonio was selected as the place for the 1917 meeting. There were five contestants in San Antonio, Fort Worth, Amarillo, Corpus Christi and Corsicana.

The letter carriers elected the following officers: A. C. Craig of Houston, president; Neely Bailey of Amarillo, vice president; Wallace W. Taylor of Waco, secretary-treasurer, re-elected.

The new officers of the Postoffice Clerks' association are K. L. Winston of Dallas, president; H. Loper of Corsicana, vice president; Mrs. Bertha Ford of El Paso, secretary, re-elected; W. H. Cunningham of Austin, treasurer.

The revival meeting which began about two weeks ago, and which is being conducted by Rev. J. E. Billington, pastor of the Brook Avenue Baptist church, is still going ahead with deep interest and a broadening work.

About eighty conversions already have resulted and many accessions, which the prospects for a fine work yet to be done are good. The meeting has been a remarkable one in many respects, and the church has been tremendously revived in action to the work it has done in behalf of the unconverted.

Rev. Mr. Billington is a strong and forceful speaker, and the services are unusually interesting.

Texas Roads Have Handled Troops in Fine Order

The Texas railroads have shown up well as to equipment, schedules and general problems involved in the handling of troops, so it is stated by railroad men who have observed the movement of men over the lines.

It has taken an immense amount of equipment for handling the men, and while a part of this was available from points outside the state, a good deal of it had to come from within the state.

The men have been handled without any serious accidents and have been handled quietly and with a minimum of discomfort to the men. This is the verdict of those who have been keeping up with the matter.

Work Has Begun on Elm Mott's New School

Work has commenced on the new brick school building at Elm Mott, this to be one of the excellent school buildings of McLennan county. The building will cost $8000, when completed. The first shovel of dirt was handled by Dr. O. C. Elliott, president of the school board. It will be a very slightly structure and one of which not only that community but the entire county may feel proud. The contractor on the building is N. M. Bushnell, and the architects Ross & Cason of Waco.

Dr. W. A. Streeter to Practice in Virginia After Graduation

Dr. Work A. Streeter, who was reared in Waco, has just graduated in medicine from the Hahnemann Medical college in Philadelphia, the very same college from which his father graduated, and after graduation married Miss May Hagerty of Philadelphia, a most estimable young woman, and has settled down to the practice of medicine in Dayton, Va.

He formed a co-partnership with two of the best known and most prominent physicians of Dayton, and is therefore delightfully and profitably placed in this particular. He starts off in life under the most flattering circumstances and his host of friends in this city and section will be glad to learn of his success.

Mrs. Mollie E. Streeter of Waco, his mother, is naturally very proud and happy that Dr. W. A. Streeter has completed his medical college work and that he has decided to become a benedict, especially as his selection of a life companion is said to have been a most excellent one.

Believes Government Should Keep Tab on Mexicans in State

Said a prominent real estate man yesterday afternoon: "I believe that the suggestion of Governor James E. Ferguson regarding the Mexicans in Texas is a good one, and that certain steps should be taken in the direction of keeping tab on all those who are now in the state, and that they should be required to appear at stated intervals before the sheriffs of the counties and make their report. All those who are behaving properly would not need to have any fear whatever, as they will be well protected and properly treated, but if any of them get unruly they could be dealt with properly and expeditiously."

"I do not really think there are many Mexicans in the state who would be disposed to give trouble, but certainly some steps should be taken to keep up with those who are here, and to have them report from time to time to constituted authorities."

No Complaints So Far Filed Under Fire Escape Law

J. A. Carlisle, city fire marshal, endorsed six sets of plans yesterday for fire escapes on various city buildings. Mr. Carlisle said that he and Fire Chief Ed Bauerle were well pleased with the response of the recent campaign to secure compliance with the state law. There have been a large number of steel escapes of the approved type erected within the past month and several others are now under course of construction. There have so far been no complaints filed, but the indications are that some will be filed under the new Texas law on compulsory fire escapes.

School Board Lets Contracts for Minor Improvements

In anticipation of the opening of the public schools some time in the latter part of September, the Waco school board in regular session yesterday afternoon let several contracts for improvements in the various buildings during the summer months.

H. T. Dennis & Co. was given the contracts calling for the installation of one hundred and seventy-three window shades in the various schools, the price being $396. Another contract for changing the windows in the South Eighth street school was taken by J. M. Bush, the consideration involved amounting to $294.55. The board also contracted for about three hundred desks, at an average price of $2.50 from C. A. Bryant & Co. of Dallas, and ten teacher's desks, each being valued at $12.85, from the Southwestern Seating Company of San Antonio. Business Manager Vaden was authorized to put down sidewalks and curbs on the James and Bagby street sides of the South Waco school property, in compliance with the city ordinance. Miss Mary Treat was elected to a grade position in one of the ward schools. The election of E. P. Hunt as physical director of the city schools was unanimously ratified by the board.

Work Has Begun on Elm Mott's New School

Work has commenced on the new brick school building at Elm Mott, this to be one of the excellent school buildings of McLennan county. The building will cost $5000 when completed. The first shovel of dirt was handled by Dr. O. C. Elliott, president of the school board. It will be a very sightly structure and one of which not only that community but the entire county may feel proud. The contractor on the building is N. M. Bushnell, and the architects Ross & Cason of Waco.

Dr. W. A. Streeter to Practice in Virginia After Graduation

Dr. Work A. Streeter, who was reared in Waco, has just graduated in medicine from the Hahnemann Medical college in Philadelphia, the very same college from which his father graduated, and after graduation married Miss May Haggerty of Philadelphia, a most estimable young woman, and has settled down to the practice of medicine in Dayton, Va.

He formed a co-partnership with two of the best known and most prominent physicians of Dayton, and is therefore delightfully and profitably placed in this particular. He starts off in life under the most flattering circumstances and his host of friends in this city and section will be glad to learn of his success.

Mrs. Mollie E. Streeter of Waco, his mother, is naturally very proud and happy that Dr. W. A. Streeter has completed his medical college work and that he has decided to become a benedict, especially as his selection of a life companion is said to have been a most excellent one.

Believes Government Should Keep Tab on Mexicans in State

Said a prominent real estate man yesterday afternoon: "I believe that the suggestion of Governor James E. Ferguson regarding the Mexicans in Texas is a good one, and that certain steps should be taken in the direction of keeping tab on all those who are now in the state, and that they should be required to appear at stated intervals before the sheriffs of the counties and make their report. All those who are behaving properly would not need to have any fear whatever, as they will be well protected and properly treated, but if any of them get unruly they could be dealt with properly and expeditiously.

"I do not really think there are many Mexicans in the state who would be disposed to give trouble, but certainly some steps should be taken to keep up with those who are here, and to have them report from time to time to constituted authorities."

No Complaints So Far Filed Under Fire Escape Law

J. A. Carlisle, city fire marshal, endorsed six sets of plans yesterday for fire escapes on various city buildings. Mr. Carlisle said that he and Fire Chief Ed Bauerle were well pleased with the response of the recent campaign to secure compliance with the state law. There have been a large number of steel escapes of the approved type erected within the past month and several others are now under course of construction. There have so far been no complaints filed, but the indications are that some will be filed under the new Texas law on compulsory fire escapes.
